When a member is appointed from an eight-member committee, the consent of the member to be appointed shall first be obtained. The temporary appointee shall have the right to vote only on the bill or bills that actually have been heard by the appointee and provided that the vote is taken on such bills on the day the bill or bills are heard. recorded and transcribed, unless the committee so provides, but the records of which shall be available for public inspection. Executive sessions shall be open to members of the news media who may report on action taken and on all discussions in executive session.

(b) All other meetings of a committee shall be public unless the committee, by a majority vote of all of its members, determines that a meeting should not be open to the public, including members of the news media, in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances. The meeting shall be reconvened in open session before any formal action may be taken.

Sec. 16. Report of Bill to Legislature. (a) In reporting a bill to the Legislature, whether with or without amendments, a committee shall by vote of a majority of its members, recommend that the bill be placed on General File or that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Sec. 17. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the committee action on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed; except that such bill may be placed on General File or referred back to the committee by a three-fifths vote of the elected members upon motion made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature, or by a two-thirds vote of the elected members upon motion made more than three legislative days after such committee report. Not more than one bill shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other bill or subject matter. A motion to raise must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after the motion is available for consideration or it shall be deemed defeated.

Sec. 18. Committee Statement. (a) The chairperson of each committee with the assistance of the legislative staff shall, when reporting a bill, submit with such bill a committee statement which shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

RULE 3

- (1) the one-line title and number of the bill;
- (2) a roll call vote of final committee action taken on the bill;
- (3) the date of the public hearing on the bill;
- (4) a list of all individuals testifying for and against the bill and any organization they represent;

A minority or concurring statement bearing the signature or signatures of its proponents and setting forth objections to the bill, to proposed amendments, or to the majority statement may be filed by its author(s) with the Clerk of the Legislature at any time prior to the first hearing of the bill on General File.

(c) A copy of the committee statement and any minority statements submitted shall be distributed to each senator after filing with the Clerk of the Legislature. Copies of such statements shall be made available to the public.

Sec. 19. Request From Committee, Bills Held. (a) Except for the general appropriation bills necessary for the support of the state government for the biennium, the Legislature may, by vote of a majority of the elected members, request a status report from any committee at any time after said committee shall have been in possession of a bill or resolution for twenty legislative days.

(b) Any senator may move that a bill be placed on General File twenty calendar days or more after the committee hearing, if the committee has not taken final action on the bill, and by a vote of a majority of the elected members, said bill shall be placed on General File. If, at the expiration of eight calendar days from the date final action was taken, the chairperson has not reported the bill, any senator may file with the Speaker a motion that the chairperson be compelled to submit a report. After determining that final action on the bill has been taken at least eight calendar days prior to the date the motion was submitted, the Speaker shall accept the motion and compel the chairperson to file the committee's report on the matter.

(c) Any time any member attempts to take a bill from committee to be placed on General File, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed and shall not be subject to reconsideration if the motion fails to receive a majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature. The introducer of the bill must concur with any motion offered under this rule.

Sec. 20. Subpoena Procedure. It is within the inherent power of any legislative committee to gather information pursuant to its regular functions, and to conduct investigations of matters within its subject-matter jurisdiction.

A committee's power of subpoena should not be exercised unless the committee has determined that no other method of securing the desired information would be successful or practicable, and that the matter is of primary importance to the welfare of the State of Nebraska.

A committee of the Legislature conducting an investigation and gathering information, whether pursuant to legislative direction or pursuant to its regular functions of oversight and bill preparation, shall observe the following procedures in addition to regular committee procedures whenever subpoenas are issued:

(A) Issuance of Subpoenas.

(i) A committee may, by a majority vote of all of its members taken at a meeting properly called, issue a subpoena requiring a person to appear before the committee and be examined in reference to any matter within the scope of the inquiry or investigation being conducted by the committee, but only when the committee has received prior approval by a majority vote of the Executive Board to issue subpoenas in connection with the specific inquiry or investigation in question.

(ii) The committee may, in the same manner, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum requiring any person to appear before the committee and bring with him or her any books, papers, or other documents pertinent thereto.

(iii) While the Legislature is in session, a committee deciding to issue subpoenas must promptly report each issuance to the Legislature. A record shall be made in the Journal reflecting the date the subpoena was issued, to whom it was issued, for what purpose it was issued, and the date on which testimony or production of documents is to take place. Under extraordinary circumstances, the identity of the person subpoenaed may be withheld from publication if necessary to protect the safety of an individual or the confidentiality of the matters to be heard.

(iv) A person subpoenaed to attend a hearing of a committee shall receive the same fees and allowances as a person subpoenaed to give testimony in an action pending in a court of record.

(B) Notice to Witnesses.

(i) Service of a subpoena requiring the attendance of a person at a hearing of a committee shall be made in the manner provided by law for the service of subpoenas in civil actions at least seven days prior to the date of the hearing unless a shorter period of time is authorized by a majority vote of all of the members of the committee in a particular instance when, in their opinion, the giving of seven days' notice is not practicable; but if a shorter period of time is authorized, the person subpoenaed shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing, consistent with the particular circumstances involved.

(ii) Any person who is served with a subpoena to attend a hearing of a committee shall also be served with a copy of the act defining the purpose of the committee, a copy of the rules under which the committee functions, a general statement informing him or her of the subject matter of the committee's investigation or inquiry, and a notice that he or she may be accompanied at the hearing by counsel of his or her own choosing.

(C) Conduct of the Hearing.

(i) No committee which has issued a subpoena directing a witness to appear at a hearing shall question the witness unless a quorum is present throughout the questioning.

(ii) The hearing shall be public unless the committee, by a majority vote of all of its members, determines that a hearing should not be open to the public in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances consistent with Legislative Rule 3, Section 15(b) regarding closed meetings.

(iii) The chairperson of the committee shall preside at all hearings and shall conduct the examination of witnesses himself or herself or supervise the examination by other members of the committee. The committee may, by a majority vote of all its members, authorize the questioning of a witness by the committee's counsel or by special counsel.

(D) Right to Counsel and Submission of Questions.

(i) Every witness at the hearing may be accompanied by counsel of his or her own choosing, who may advise the witness of his or her rights, subject to reasonable limitations which the committee may prescribe to prevent obstruction of or interference with the orderly conduct of the hearing.

RULE 3

(ii) Any witness at the hearing, or a witness' counsel, may submit to the committee proposed questions to be asked of the witness or any other witness relevant to the matters upon which there has been any questioning or submission of evidence, and the committee shall ask such of the questions as it deems appropriate and relevant to the subject matter of the hearing.

(E) Testimony.

(i) The committee shall cause a verbatim record to be made of all proceedings in which testimony or other evidence is demanded or offered, which record shall include rulings of the chair, questions of the committee and its counsel, the testimony or responses of witnesses, sworn written statements submitted to the committee and read into the record, and such other matters as the committee or its chair may direct.

(ii) All testimony given or offered at the hearing shall be under oath or affirmation if the witness has been subpoenaed, and in other cases if a majority of the committee members present at the hearing so decide.

(iii) The presiding member at the hearing may direct a witness to answer any relevant question or furnish any relevant book, paper, or other document, the production of which has been required by subpoena duces tecum. Unless the direction is overruled by a majority vote of the committee members present, disobedience shall constitute a contempt.

(iv) A witness at the hearing or his or her counsel, with the consent of a majority of the committee's members present at the hearing, may file with the committee for incorporation into the record of the hearing sworn written statements relevant to the purpose, subject matter, and scope of the committee's investigation or inquiry.

(v) Testimony and other evidence given or offered at a hearing closed to the public shall not be made public unless authorized by a majority vote of all of the members of the committee, which authorization shall also specify the form and manner in which the testimony or other evidence may be released.

(vi) A witness at a closed hearing, upon request and at his or her own expense, shall be furnished a transcript of his or her testimony at the hearing.

(F) Interested Persons.

(i) Any person whose name is mentioned or who is otherwise identified during the hearing and who, in the opinion of the committee, may be adversely affected thereby, may, upon his or her request or upon the request of any member of the committee, appear personally before the committee and testify in his or her own behalf, or, with the committee's consent, may file a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof.

(ii) Upon the consent of a majority of its members, a committee may invite any other person to appear at a hearing or submit a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof. No invitation to appear, and no request to appear, appearance, or submission of evidence shall limit in any way the committee's power of subpoena.

(iii) Any person who appears before a committee pursuant to this section shall have all the rights, privileges, and responsibilities of a witness provided to all other witnesses.

(G) Contempt.

A person shall be in contempt if he or she:

(i) Fails or refuses to appear in compliance with a subpoena or, having appeared, fails or refuses to testify under oath or affirmation;

(ii) Fails or refuses to answer any relevant question or fails or refuses to furnish any relevant book, paper, or other document subpoenaed by or on behalf of a committee; or

(iii) Commits any other act or offense against a committee which, if committed against the Legislature, would constitute a contempt.

The chairperson of a committee may apply to the Legislature or, during the interim, to the district court of any county to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt.

(H) Penalties.

(i) A person guilty of contempt under the provision of these rules shall be subject to punishment pursuant to RRS 50-105 and 50-106 during the session, or to RRS 50-407 when the Legislature is not in session.

(ii) If a committee fails in any material respect to comply with the requirements of these rules, any person subject to a subpoena or a subpoena duces tecum who is injured by such failure shall be relieved of any requirement to attend the hearing for which the subpoena was issued or, if present, to testify or produce evidence therein; and such failure shall be a complete defense in any proceeding against such person for contempt or other punishment.

(iii) Any member or employee of the Legislature, other than the witness concerned or his or her counsel who knowingly violates subsections of these rules concerning the publication of testimony taken at a closed hearing, shall be in contempt of the Legislature or, if a member of the Legislature, shall be subject to sanction or suspension according to the statutes governing the Legislature. The speaker on his or her own motion or on the application of any person claiming to have been injured or prejudiced by an unauthorized disclosure may institute proceedings for the determination of the issue and for the imposition of penalties provided herein. Nothing in this subsection shall limit any power which the Legislature may have to discipline a member or employee or to impose a penalty in the absence of action by a prosecuting officer or court.

(I) Limitation of Rules.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or prohibit the acquisition of evidence or information by any committee by any lawful means not provided for herein.

RULE 5--BILLS--GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Drafting of Bills. The Bill Drafter shall prepare all bills and amendments in proper form when requested by members of the Legislature, newly elected members of the Legislature, or heads of executive departments. No bills or major amendments shall be introduced or considered unless the same has been approved as to form and draftsmanship by the Bill Drafter. In order to shorten the length of sections, the Bill Drafter shall, in the drafting of new sections, make each paragraph a separate section except when to do so would be contrary to sound bill drafting practice. The Bill Drafter shall make available a continuing compilation of sections to which amendments are proposed so as to reduce unnecessary duplication of bills. This section index of bills drafted shall be available to all senators, newly elected senators, and other persons entitled to have bills drafted. After January 1 of each year no bill shall be drafted by the Bill Drafter unless requested or authorized by a member of the Legislature.

Sec. 2. Content and Form of Bills. A bill shall be designated as Legislative Bill ____.

Style of bill. Const. Art. III, Sec. 13.

(b) No bill shall contain more than one subject and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. No law shall be amended, unless the new act contains the section or sections as amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 13.

(c) An amendatory bill or constitutional provision shall be so prepared and printed as to show the new matter proposed, old matter to be retained, and old matter to be omitted from the statutes or constitution.

Sec. 3. Revisor Correctional Bills, Preprinting. (a) Preceding each legislative session, the Chairperson or any member of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council, or if the Executive Board so requests, the senator who, in the preceding session served as Chairperson of the Judiciary Committee, shall sign as introducer the Revisor of Statutes' correctional bills. The Clerk of the Legislature shall number these bills consecutively beginning with number 1 and shall show the committee reference to be General File. The Clerk of the Legislature shall have these bills printed before the convening of the next regular session.

(b) In addition to causing to be printed the revisor bills, the Clerk shall number and cause to be printed all bills delivered to him or her by the Executive Board, provided said Board has referred said bills to a standing committee. No bill so printed shall be withdrawn until after the Legislature convenes.

Sec. 4. Introducers Signing Bills. (a) Members shall introduce only such bills as they are willing to endorse and support personally. The last name and district shall be used, unless an initial or name is necessary to identify the introducer.

(b) A standing committee or special committee may introduce a bill for any purpose, including at the request of another senator, provided said bill receives the endorsement of a majority of the committee members whose names shall be on the bill.

(c) No bill shall be introduced after the tenth legislative day of any session, except:

1. "A" bills, appropriation bills, and bills introduced at the request of the Governor may be introduced at any time;

2. A standing committee or special committee may request that the Legislature consider introduction of a bill. A vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature shall be required for such bill to be introduced, and a copy of the statement of intent for such bill must be placed on each member's desk before introduction of the bill is voted upon;

3. A special committee as created by the Executive Board on December 10, 1983, regarding the Commonwealth investigation and matters related thereto, may introduce bills at any time during the course of the 1984 Legislative Session. Said bills to be introduced must receive endorsement of a majority of the committee members whose names shall appear on the bill in order to fall within the purview of this section.

(d) Individual members shall not be limited as to bill introduction. Each committee shall be limited to 8 bills each session. Bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall be included within the limitations prescribed by this section. Bills introduced under Rule 5, Section 3(a) and bills introduced at the request of the Governor will not be included in the limitation.

RULE 5

(e) The introducers of all bills must submit a statement of intent for each bill to the appropriate committee chairperson at least 24 hours prior to the bill's hearing. The statement of intent should discuss clearly and completely the purposes and effects of the bill.

Sec. 5. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate one bill as a priority bill. Such priority bill need not be the designator's bill, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) Each chairperson of those committees which are authorized to hold public hearings on bills may designate two of the committee's bills as priority bills.

(c) The Speaker may designate up to 25 additional priority bills.

(d) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline which shall be set each year by the Speaker. The designation deadline shall be prior to the 45th legislative day in the ninety day session and prior to the 30th legislative day in the sixty day session.

(e) A senator or committee may withdraw a priority designation at any time, but will not be allowed to designate another bill as a priority bill in its place. The Speaker may withdraw a priority designation made by the Speaker.

(f) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person or committee making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(g) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on General File in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with two or less dissenting votes on a consent calendar. Any bill placed on consent calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.

(h) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except that priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds shall be held on Final Reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. A priority bill which fails to advance after two votes on General File, or after one vote on Select File, shall return to nonpriority status.

(i) No priority bill designated under this rule shall have priority over appropriations bills.

Sec. 6. Fiscal Analyst. (a) A copy of every bill introduced shall be transmitted by the Clerk to the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review each bill and make an estimate of the anticipated change in state, county, or municipal expenditures or revenue under the provisions of the bill. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall prepare a statement to be known as a fiscal note to be attached to each bill prior to its public hearing by a committee, or its first consideration on General File if the bill is referred directly to General File. The fiscal note shall set forth the fiscal impact of the bill and the governmental subdivision affected by the fiscal impact as determined by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. No bill which has a fiscal impact shall be heard by a committee or considered on General File unless the fiscal note is attached.

(b) In determining the fiscal impact of any bill, the Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall request the appropriate department or other entity of state government or subdivision thereof, or appropriate association which will be affected by the bill, to prepare the fiscal note within five calendar days.

(c) The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review the fiscal note so prepared and shall also request a review of such fiscal note by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services. Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill or by the committee which offered the amendments creating the expenditure, and shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added, and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. (h) The note shall be factual in nature, as brief and concise as may be, and shall, if possible, provide a reliable estimate in dollars and, in addition, it shall include both the immediate effect and, if determinable or reasonably foreseeable, the long range effect of the measure. If, after investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given.

(i) No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared, however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

(j) The subject matter of bills submitted to boards, commissions, departments, agencies, or other entities of the state by the Fiscal Analyst shall be kept in strict confidence by said agencies and by the office of Fiscal Analyst together with the content of the fiscal note itself and no information relating thereto shall be divulged by any official or employee prior to its introduction in the Legislature.

(e) At any stage of consideration of a bill, a motion to bracket or to bracket to a day certain or to unbracket shall, if made by the primary introducer of the bill, require a majority of those voting. If made by other than the primary introducer, there shall then be required a majority vote of the elected membership. In any event, such motions shall alternatively be passed by unanimous consent of the body.

(f) In the event a motion to indefinitely postpone a bill is made before the bill is read on General File, such motion shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members.

(g) In the event a bill has become substantially a new and different bill by reason of amendments having been adopted, the Speaker may refer said bill to the Reference Committee who must refer the said bill to a proper committee for a public hearing; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker.

(h) If, in the opinion of the Speaker, the bill is in such form that it should properly be referred back to committee for further action, he or she may by order direct the same; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker. Any rule to the contrary, notwithstanding any motion to amend a bill, shall require a majority vote of the elected members. shall list the items so overridden by section, page, and line.

In addition to such certificate, the Clerk of the Legislature shall note on each line, when the Legislature votes to override, a stamp reading "line-item veto overridden" and place thereon the date and his or her initials.

Sec. 14. Appropriations Bills, Procedure After Veto. The Legislature shall in odd-numbered years, after the period allowed for the introduction of bills, recess for four (4) calendar days. During such recess committees shall prepare, for public distribution, a calendar of hearing dates. No committee hearings shall be held until after the recess provided for in this section. The Legislature shall remain in session until it shall adjourn sine die, but in no event shall it remain in session for longer than ninety (90) legislative days in odd-numbered years or sixty (60) legislative days in even-numbered years. This limitation may be suspended by a four-fifths vote of the elected senators. Each day the Legislature convenes shall be considered a legislative day.

The unfinished business in which the Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Section 1.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay.'"

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he or she shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the house while the house is under call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote, no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote, the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes.

(e) Only senators physically in the legislative chamber may vote.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

- a. To adjourn
- b. For the previous question
- c. To postpone to a time certain
- d. To recommit to a committee
- e. To amend
- f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

When any of the following motions shall be made, any action on such motion shall be delayed at least one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal:

- a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on General File or Select File, unless the introducer(s) of the bill, or the committee chairperson in the case of committee bills, request(s) that the motion to postpone indefinitely be considered immediately without the one day delay.
- b. Motion to advance bills from committee.
- c. Motion to place bills on General File, notwithstanding the action of a standing committee.

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment. Any amendment that is not germane is out of order. Germane amendments relate only to details of the specific subject of the bill and must be in a natural and logical sequence to the subject matter of the original proposal. A nongermane amendment includes one that relates to a substantially different subject or accomplishes substantially different purpose than that of the original bill to which it is proposed.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be made only in the normal course of speaking order and shall be in order when demanded by five or more members, and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn. The presiding officer may rule the previous question out of order if in the presiding officer's opinion a full and fair debate has not been afforded, due to the complexity of the subject matter. The ruling of the presiding officer shall be subject to overrule in accordance with Rule 1, Section 12 of these rules.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the House. A call of the house may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a call of the house." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under call. If a majority of the senators present and voting, vote in favor of such a motion, then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under call. Each member present shall indicate his or her presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his or her seat during the call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the call raised.

*Lieutenant Governor votes only when Legislature equally divided.
Rule 1, Section 14.*

Voice vote while house under call. Rule 7, Section 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Section 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

- i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

(d) For a bill on General File, no motion to reconsider shall be in order until the bill has failed to advance three times; for a bill on Select File, no motion to reconsider shall be in order until the bill has failed to advance two times; for a bill passed on Final Reading, no motion to reconsider shall be in order except by the introducer of the bill, for technical or clarifying amendments.

(e) Whenever a bill is returned from the Governor for further action pursuant to the Legislature's request for such return, motions for reconsideration necessarily incident to opening a bill for further action shall be admitted regardless of the time limitation otherwise imposed by this rule.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause, if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

- a. While a member is speaking.
- b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
- c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

When a motion to adjourn has been made, the Speaker shall be privileged to speak to the motion prior to any vote on such motion, otherwise a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

A motion to adjourn shall be adopted if approved by a majority of members voting.

RULE 8--APPROPRIATIONS PROCESS

Section 1. Purpose. The purpose of this rule is to provide a procedure for the Legislature to develop appropriations for all state agencies, boards, and commissions. Such procedure shall consider the need to (1) continue the services and financial assistance provided by state agencies and programs, and (2) restrict the growth in state appropriations.

Sec. 2. Appropriations Committee Report. The Legislature's Appropriations Committee, by majority vote of its members, shall annually prepare a report summarizing the recommended total General Fund appropriation for each year of the following biennium. Such report shall include information based upon the committee's initial review of (1) state agency, board, and commission budget requests, (2) the Governor's budget, (3) the estimated revenue receipts for each year of the following biennium, (4) General Fund reserve requirements, (5) express obligations, and (6) economic conditions affecting the State of Nebraska.

Sec. 3. Report, When Required. The report required in Section 2 of this rule shall be printed in the Legislative Journal and presented to each member of the Legislature by the Chairperson of the Appropriations Committee between twenty and thirty legislative days after the Governor presents his or her budget during sessions in odd-numbered years and between fifteen and twenty legislative days after the Governor's budget presentation during session in even-numbered years.

Sec. 4. Bills, Held on Final Reading. The report of the Appropriations Committee shall include a recommended dollar amount of the General Fund biennium appropriation which shall be allocated for the funding of "A" bills, bills that result in the net reduction of revenue to the General Fund, tax expenditure bills, and amendments to the appropriations bills as reported to General File by the Appropriations Committee. All "A" bills which, when considered with their companion bill, appropriate general funds resulting in a net loss; all bills resulting in the reduction of revenue to the General Fund; and all tax expenditure bills shall not be read on Final Reading until the appropriations bills are passed by the Legislature. Provided the Appropriations Committee shall place appropriations bills on General File no later than the 70th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 40th legislative day in a 60 day session. If this deadline is not met, the Legislature shall consider the appropriations bills as introduced by the Governor. The appropriations bills shall be passed no later than the 80th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 50th legislative day in a 60 day session. The appropriation provided for in an "A" bill shall be for not less than two fiscal years.

Sec. 5. Bill, Setting Tax Rates. The Legislature's tax rate bill shall be passed no later than the 85th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 55th legislative day in a 60 day session.

RULE 9--SPECIAL SESSIONS

Section 1. Purpose. The purpose of this rule is to establish special procedures for the Legislature to utilize during a special session. This rule recognizes the necessity of the Legislature to address the business for which it is called together in an expeditious and fair fashion and provides that certain legislative procedures established for regular sessions shall not unduly burden the activities of the Legislature during a special session.

Sec. 2. Convening of the Legislature. Pursuant to the directive contained in the proclamation issued by the Governor, either upon the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the Legislature according to the procedure established by section 50-125 or upon the call of the Governor under the authority of Article IV, section 8, of the Nebraska Constitution, the Legislature shall convene in special session. The first item of business shall be the introduction of bills and resolutions, both of which shall be numbered consecutively beginning with the number one. Bills and resolutions offered by the Speaker at the request of the Governor or offered pursuant to the statement filed with the Secretary of State and agreed to by two-thirds of the members of the Legislature shall be introduced ahead of all other proposals. After introduction, all bills and resolutions shall be handled in the manner provided in this rule. Bills and resolutions shall be introduced only during the first three days of the session.

Sec. 3. Committee Hearings. Within one legislative day following the introduction of bills and resolutions, the Reference Committee shall review each bill and resolution and refer the matter to the appropriate standing committee. The committee to which the bill or resolution is referred shall provide as much public notice of the time and place of the hearing on the matter as is reasonable under the circumstances by publication in the Legislative Journal, but in no case shall the hearing be more than five calendar days after the date the bill or resolution has been referred to the committee.

Sec. 4. Report of Bill or Resolution to Legislature. The committee to which a bill or resolution has been referred shall make a report on the bill or resolution to the Legislature within twenty-four hours after the committee has taken final action on the matter. If, at the expiration of twenty-four hours from the time final action was taken, the chairperson has not reported the bill or resolution, any senator may file with the Speaker a motion that the chairperson be compelled to submit a report. After determining that final action on the bill or resolution has been taken at least twenty-four hours prior to the time the motion was submitted, the Speaker shall accept the motion and compel the chairperson to file the committee's report on the matter.

Sec. 5. Indefinitely Postponed Bills and Resolutions. If the committee action on a bill or resolution is to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed, except that such bill or resolution may be placed on General File or referred back to the committee by a majority vote of the elected members. Not more than one bill or resolution shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise shall not be amended to include any other bill, resolution, or subject matter. A motion to raise shall take precedence in order over all other motions, except a motion to adjourn.

Sec. 6. Bills and Resolutions Held by Committee. If the committee has not taken final action on a bill or resolution within two days after the committee hearing, any senator may move that the bill or resolution be placed on General File. If a majority of the elected members vote in favor of the motion, the bill shall be placed on General File.

Sec. 7. Pending Proposals Indefinitely Postponed. At the conclusion of a special session, all bills and resolutions which have not been enacted shall stand indefinitely postponed and shall not carry over to the next legislative session.

Sec. 8. Rules Controlling When Conflict Exists. When a conflict exists between the provisions of this rule and other provisions of the Rules of the Nebraska Legislature, the provisions of this rule shall apply.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 57.

Introduced by Pappas, 42nd District.

WHEREAS, pursuant to Public Law 280, the State of Nebraska was granted criminal and civil jurisdiction over the Winnebago Indian Reservation in 1953; and

WHEREAS, the assumption of state jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation has led to steadily increasing costs for civil and criminal law enforcement in Thurston County, such costs falling heavily upon the taxpayers of Nebraska and Thurston County since the federal government has wholly failed to provide federal financial assistance for P.L. 280 law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, due to the tax-exempt status of tribal trust land and individual Indian allotments on the Winnebago Reservation, Thurston County has not had a sufficient tax base to meet the ever-increasing costs of law enforcement on the Winnebago Reservation; and

WHEREAS, since 1957 state assistance has been provided for law enforcement purposes in Thurston County, and the cost of this assistance has increased each biennium; and

WHEREAS, Public Law 90-284 adopted as an Act of Congress on April 11, 1968, contains a number of provisions dealing with civil rights and jurisdiction of Indians; and

WHEREAS, Section 403(a) of Public Law 90-284 provides that the United States is authorized to accept a retrocession of all or any measure of the jurisdiction acquired by a state pursuant to Public Law 280 of 1953; and

WHEREAS, the Winnebago Tribe has petitioned the State of Nebraska to effectuate a partial retrocession of civil and criminal jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation to the United States and has demonstrated the capability to assume its portion of associated responsibilities; and

WHEREAS, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has confirmed that it will detail law enforcement personnel to the Winnebago Reservation immediately upon the effective date of retrocession, thereby assuring that a law enforcement "vacuum" will not result.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE IN SESSION ASSEMBLED THAT THE STATE OF NEBRASKA HEREBY:

1. Retrocedes criminal jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation acquired by the State of Nebraska pursuant to Public Law 280 of 1953, except as provided in paragraph 2 of this resolution, such retrocession to be effective at 12:01 A.M., July 1, 1985.

2. Provided that the Winnebago Tribe shall have jurisdiction to prosecute Indians committing offenses involving the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways and roadways within the exterior boundaries of the Winnebago Reservation, and the State of Nebraska shall have jurisdiction to prosecute non-Indians committing similar offenses.

3. Retrocedes effective at 12:01 A.M., July 1, 1985, that amount of civil jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation--no more and no less--that is exercised exclusively by other Indian tribes in other states not subject to P.L. 280, as defined by controlling/evolving caselaw; whereby the Winnebago Tribe shall exercise exclusive jurisdiction over those civil causes of action arising within the exterior boundaries of the Winnebago Reservation which affect the health, safety, welfare or other self-government interests of the Tribe and its members. The State of Nebraska and its political subdivisions shall continue to exercise jurisdiction over those civil causes of action for which the Tribe has not assumed exclusive jurisdiction through retrocession, i.e., over those civil causes of action which affect the interests of the State of Nebraska or its citizens to the point where tribal self-government would be affected. Accordingly, the State shall retain exclusive jurisdiction over those causes of action arising within the Reservation where both parties are non-Indians and tribal self-government is not implicated.

4. That the State of Nebraska and its political subdivisions shall take all necessary action to effectuate this resolution, including cooperative agreements with the Winnebago Tribe, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and/or the Department of Interior deemed by the affected parties to be necessary to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of civil and criminal law enforcement on the Winnebago Reservation and in Thurston County.

WHEREAS, a future owner of the Chicago Rock Island, and Pacific Railroad right-of-way lying between the city limits of Lincoln and Omaha intends to graciously donate such property to the State of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, such an abandoned right-of-way converted to a recreation trail would have tremendous recreational potential for hikers, bikers, cross-country skiers and others who enjoy the out-of-doors and the development of such a trail would provide recreational opportunities for residents of this state; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission has the general authority to acquire real estate with the consent of the Governor by gift; and

WHEREAS, in the interest of promoting recreational opportunities and good health for Nebraskans, the Nebraska Legislature wishes to grant approval for the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission to obtain title to all or any part of such land.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature approves the gift to the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission at any future date of all of the real estate which comprises the entire right-of-way lying between the city limits of Lincoln and Omaha presently owned by the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific Railroad.

2. That such approval is granted with the understanding that the land described shall be designated and utilized as a public recreation facility.

Johnson, 8th District; Haberman, 44th District; Marsh, 29th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Scofield, 49th District; Beutler, 28th District; Higgins, 9th District; Lundy, 36th District.

A Resolution Proposed for Adoption by the Nebraska Legislature

Regarding Winnebago Retrocession.

WHEREAS, pursuant to Public Law 280, the State of Nebraska was granted criminal and civil jurisdiction over the Winnebago Indian Reservation in 1953; and

WHEREAS, the assumption of state jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation has led to steadily increasing costs for civil and criminal law enforcement in Thurston County, such costs falling heavily upon the taxpayers of Nebraska and Thurston County since the federal government has wholly failed to provide federal financial assistance for P.L. 280 law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, due to the tax-exempt status of tribal trust land and individual Indian allotments on the Winnebago Reservation, Thurston County has not had a sufficient tax base to meet the ever-increasing costs of law enforcement on the Winnebago Reservation; and

WHEREAS, since 1957 state assistance has been provided for law enforcement purposes in Thurston County, and the cost of this assistance has increased each biennium; and

WHEREAS, Public Law 90-284 adopted as an Act of Congress on April 11, 1968, contains a number of provisions dealing with civil rights and jurisdiction of Indians; and

WHEREAS, Section 403(a) of Public Law 90-284 provides that the United States is authorized to accept a retrocession of all or any measure of the jurisdiction acquired by a state pursuant to Public Law 280 of 1953; and

WHEREAS, the Winnebago Tribe has petitioned the State of Nebraska to effectuate a partial retrocession of criminal jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation to the United States and has demonstrated the capability to assume its portion of associated responsibilities; and

WHEREAS, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has confirmed that it will detail law enforcement personnel to the Winnebago Reservation immediately upon the effective date of retrocession, thereby assuring that a law enforcement "vacuum" will not result.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby retrocedes criminal jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation acquired by the State of Nebraska pursuant to Public Law 280 of 1953, except as provided in paragraph 2 of this resolution. Such retrocession shall be effective commencing 12:01 A.M., July 1, 1985.

2. That the Winnebago Tribe shall have jurisdiction to prosecute Indians committing offenses involving the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways and roadways within the exterior boundaries of the Winnebago Reservation, and the State of Nebraska shall have jurisdiction to prosecute non-Indians committing similar offenses.

3. That the State of Nebraska and its political subdivisions shall take all necessary action to effectuate this resolution, including cooperative agreements with the Winnebago Tribe, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and/or the Department of Interior deemed by the affected parties to be necessary to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of criminal law enforcement on the Winnebago Reservation and in Thurston County.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

December 10, 1985

Dear Senator Goll:

We have received two letters from you in which you request an interpretation of Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320 (Supp. 1985). It is our policy to provide legislators with opinions pertaining only to proposed or pending legislation, and not to provide opinions which interpret existing statutes. An exception to this policy is where the interpretation of the existing statutes directly relates to the proposed legislation. We find that to be the case in this instance.

In your first letter you inquire whether dealers legally may "piggyback" other vehicles onto semi-tractors for delivery to purchasers by using "In Transit" stickers provided for in Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320(3)(b) (Supp. 1985). The term "piggyback" refers to placing the front end of one vehicle on top of the back end of another vehicle. In your second letter, you conclude that "In Transit" stickers would not be properly used in such situation, and you appear to withdraw your request for an Opinion on such question. We agree with the conclusion that dealers may not legally "piggyback" other vehicles onto semi-tractors for delivery to purchasers by using "In Transit" stickers and, therefore, address solely the issues raised in the second letter which we received from you.

Your questions are: (1) Are semi-tractors "automotive or trailer equipment" which may be legally transported under Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320(1) (Supp. 1985) on a dealer plate?; and (2) If not, must the Department of Motor Vehicles issue a permit pursuant to this same section to allow such hauling? As a factual basis for your Opinion request, you state that when dealers transport semi-tractors occasionally they tow several tractors in a "piggyback" fashion. Recently, dealers have been given citations for transporting vehicles in this manner.

First, semi-tractors are not "automotive or trailer equipment" for purposes of Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320(1) (Supp. 1985). According to §60-320(1), motor vehicle dealer license plates may be used by a licensed dealer "solely for purposes of transporting, testing, demonstrating, or use in the ordinary course and conduct of his or her business as a motor vehicle or trailer dealer, including the personal or private use of such dealer. . . . * * * In no event shall such plates be used on trucks or truck-tractors or trailers hauling other than automotive or trailer equipment unless there is issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles a special permit specifying the hauling of other products."

In Attorney General Opinion No. 8, January 7, 1965, we examined the question of whether a wrecker truck licensed with a motor vehicle dealer plate was properly operating under certain circumstances. We concluded that a wrecker truck licensed with motor vehicle dealer plate was not lawful when the wrecker was being used to trail a motor vehicle owned by the dealer and which is to be used by the dealer for salvageable used parts; when the trailed vehicle was owned by the dealer and held for resale; or when the trailed vehicle is not owned by the dealer and is being transported by the dealer for hire. In so concluding, we stated:

In the use of the term "equipment," when preceded by some descriptive term (such as "automotive"), it seems to us implicit that the word connotes something which is a component or an integral part of a complete unit of some nature and that, by its very definition, the term cannot be construed as embracing the aggregate total unit of which it constitutes a component or an integral part. Just as the term "theatrical equipment" could not mean the theater building as well as the theatrical equipment or just as the term "household goods" could not be interpreted to mean both the dwelling house and the goods therein, we believe that the term "automotive equipment" should not be construed as meaning both the automobile proper as well as the equipment thereon.

Similarly, in Attorney General Opinion No. 253, October 5, 1976, we found that hauling a trailer is not hauling "trailer equipment." Adopting the reasoning contained in Opinion Nos. 8 and 253, it is clear that a semi-trailer is not "automotive or trailer equipment" for purposes of §60-320(1).

Second, the Department of Motor Vehicles would not be required to issue a permit pursuant to §60-320(1) to permit such hauling. It is our understanding that the Department of Motor Vehicles issues special permits for trucks bearing dealer license plates only for limited demonstration purposes. It is unlikely that under the facts stated in your second letter a special permit would be granted.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 156
December 12, 1985

Dear Senator Chronister:

We have received a request from you for an Opinion interpreting Neb.Rev.Stat. §§60-311, 60-311.14, 18-1736, and 18-1738.01. It is our policy to provide legislators with opinions pertaining only to proposed or pending legislation, and not to provide opinions which interpret existing statutes. An exception to this policy is where the interpretation of the existing statutes relates directly to the proposed legislation. We find that to be the case in this instance.

Your Opinion request focuses on two issues: (1) May the parent or guardian of a disabled or physically handicapped person apply for license plates without having the disabled or handicapped person's name on the title of ownership?; and (2) Are individuals given the choice of using either handicapped license plates or a handicapped parking permit to entitle them to park in stalls designated for handicapped parking?

First, the parent or guardian of a disabled or physically handicapped person may not apply for license plates without having the disabled or handicapped person's name on the certificate of title. Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-311 (Reissue 1984) provides that the Department of Motor Vehicles shall furnish license plates to every person whose motor vehicle is registered. Registration of motor vehicles is based on the information contained in the certificate of title, and is issued solely in the name of the owner or owners of such vehicles. Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-302 (Reissue 1984).

Issuance of disabled or handicapped license plates in lieu of the usual license plates is authorized by Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-311.14 (Reissue 1984):

(1) The Department of Motor Vehicles shall, without the payment of any fee except the fees required by section 60-311, issue license plates for one motor vehicle not used for hire, which plates shall carry the internationally accepted wheelchair symbol, which symbol is a representation of a person seated in a wheelchair surrounded by a border six units wide by seven units high, and such other letters or numbers as the Director of Motor Vehicles may prescribe, to any person who applies for such plates and provides that he or she is a disabled person. Such plates shall be used by such person in lieu of the usual license plates. For purposes of this section, disabled person shall mean a person who has permanently lost the use of two or more extremities.

(2) Any person who is not disabled but is physically handicapped as defined in section 18-1738 may receive license plates, as described in subsection (1) of this section, if he or she applies for such plates, furnishes proof that he or she is physically handicapped as defined in section 18-1738, and pays the fees required in Chapter 60, article 3. (emphasis added).

Section 60-311.14 does not authorize the issuance of disabled or handicapped license plates to any person other than the disabled or handicapped person. Thus, the name of the disabled or handicapped person who is applying for license plates under §60-311.14 must appear on the certificate of title.

Second, disabled or handicapped individuals are given the choice of using either handicapped license plates or a handicapped parking permit to entitle them to park in stalls designated for handicapped parking. Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1736 (Reissue 1983) provides that a city or village may designate parking spaces for the exclusive use of

(1) disabled persons whose vehicles display the distinguishing license plates issued to disabled persons pursuant to section 60-311.14;

(2) disabled persons whose vehicles display a distinguishing license plate issued to a disabled person or paraplegic by another state;

(3) such other handicapped persons, as certified by the city or village, whose vehicles display the identification as determined by the Department of Motor Vehicles; and

(4) such other motor vehicles, as certified by the city or village, which display the identification as determined by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The specifications for the identification or "permit," referred to in §18-1736(3) and (4) are enumerated in Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1739 (Reissue 1984).

The issuance of permits entitling qualified individuals to park their motor vehicles in designated parking spaces are authorized by statute. Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1738 (Reissue 1984) states in part:

The clerk of any city or village may take an application from physically handicapped persons or their parent, legal guardian, or foster parent for a permit which will entitle the holder thereof or a person driving a motor vehicle for the purposes of transporting such holder to park in those spaces provided for by sections 18-1736 to 18-1741.

Similarly, Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1738.01 (Reissue 1984) provides in part:

The clerk of any city or village may take an application from any person for a motor vehicle permit which will entitle the holder thereof or a person driving the motor vehicle for the purpose of transporting physically handicapped persons to park in those spaces provided for by sections 18-1736 to 18-1741, if the motor vehicle is used primarily for the transportation of physically handicapped persons.

Pursuant to §18-1736, an individual is entitled to park in designated handicapped parking stalls so long as he or she has either handicapped license plates or a handicapped permit on his or her motor vehicle.

Opinion No. 158

Dear Senator Pappas:

This is in response to your letter of November 18, 1985, in which you are concerned about the authority of the Department of Economic Development to transfer the Wild West Arena in North Platte, or in the alternative to lease the property and authorize the fixtures, which constitute the grandstand and other aspects of the arena, to be removed to a separate location.

We would note first, that it is our policy not to provide state legislators with opinions seeking interpretations of existing statutes. A stated exception to this policy is where the necessity for the proposed legislation is dependant upon such an interpretation. In this case, your request was premised on the need to enact such legislation if no authority presently exists on behalf of the Department of Economic Development for such actions. Consequently, this is an appropriate exception to our stated policy.

The Wild West Arena, which consists of the underlying real estate and the fixtures upon it, was transferred to the Department of Economic Development from the Game & Parks commission by virtue of Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-1222.01 (Reissue 1981), in 1972. Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-1222.02(2) (Reissue 1984), further provides that the director of Economic Development may lease such property if the lease is in the best interest of the State.

We can find no authority which would authorize the Department of Economic Development to transfer such property, as is the case with some State property managed by other State agencies. In the absence of such specific authority, we must conclude that the legislature did not grant the power to the Department of Economic Development to transfer this property. Likewise, while the department can clearly lease this property, there is no specific authority which would allow the removal of the fixtures constituting the arena to private property under a lease agreement. We must also conclude that there would be no authority for the department to enter into such a lease arrangement. Thus, legislation would be necessary for the Department of Economic Development to enter into either of the proposed arrangements concerning this property.

In this regard, you also ask whether the department could transfer the facility back to the Game & Parks Commission. In as much as the property was originally transferred by virtue of a statute, it appears that similar statutory authority would have to be enacted to allow such a transfer back to the Game & Parks Department.

Finally, you ask in regard to the proposed lease and removal of the fixtures, whether it would make any difference if the facility was leased to a political subdivision. This would have no bearing on the Department's lack of authority to enter into such a lease agreement.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

December 20, 1985

Dear Senator Beutler:

The purpose of this letter is to clarify the policies of the Attorney General regarding the issuance of opinions to members of the Legislature. It is the intent of this letter both to correct any misunderstandings which may presently exist in this regard, and to provide some recommendations and suggestions which will facilitate our response to any future requests.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §84-205(3) (Reissue 1981) provides that one of the duties of the Attorney General shall be "To give, when required, without fee, his opinion in writing upon all questions of law submitted to him by . . . the Legislature." The general duty of the Attorney General to issue such opinions has been interpreted by the court to mean that state officers are entitled to advice upon questions of law which arise "in the discharge of their duties." Fullmer v. State, 94 Neb. 217, 142 N.W. 908 (1913). This office has likewise historically viewed its responsibility to issue opinions in this same light.

In the case of requests from members of the Legislature, we have limited the issuance of such opinions for "valid legislative purposes" only. The Legislature's purpose is, of course, to make, alter or repeal laws. See, Nebraska Public Power District v. City of York, 212 Neb. 747, 326 N.W.2d 22 (1982). It is the function of the executive branch to apply and enforce those laws, and the judicial branch to interpret those laws. Consequently, it has been and continues to be the policy of the Attorney General that we issue legal opinions to state legislators which pertain only to pending or proposed legislation. In this regard it is also our policy to decline opinion requests from legislators concerning the constitutionality, or seeking interpretations, of existing statutes. The rationale for this policy will be explained more fully below.

There are two exceptions to this policy. The first exception is where the interpretation of an existing statute is directly related to the proposed or pending legislation, or in turn where the proposed legislation is dependent upon such an interpretation. The second exception is where the requested interpretation pertains directly to the performance of some function or duty by the Legislature itself.

Likewise, we will not issue legal opinions for the personal use or benefit of state legislators, their constituents, or any private individual, group or other entity. Inasmuch as we are the attorneys representing the State of Nebraska, we do not issue private legal opinions. It would thus be inappropriate for us to do so merely because such a request has been channeled through a state legislator.

The reasons for our policy limiting opinions to legislators on matters pertaining to proposed or pending legislation, and in turn declining such requests for opinions concerning existing statutes, are really twofold. The first principle involves the concept of the separation of powers set forth in our Constitution, Article II, Section 1, which states simply that:

The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

As we have indicated, it is the function of the Legislature to enact legislation, and not to interpret or enforce existing statutory provisions. Consequently, it would serve no valid legislative purpose to issue an opinion to a legislator concerning the interpretation and enforcement of a particular statute, when the Legislature has no authority in this regard. This responsibility is the function of the executive branch of the government and under our separation of powers doctrine it is essential that no one branch encroach upon the powers reserved to another. See, State ex rel. Beck v. Young, 154 Neb. 588, 48 N.W.2d 677 (1951).

Likewise, it would be inappropriate and serve no valid legislative purpose to comment to a legislator upon a particular interpretation of an existing law adopted and applied by the executive branch of government. We will, of course, issue opinions concerning the interpretation of existing statutory law to the appropriate arm of the executive branch of government charged with enforcing that law, as such agencies or officers are also entitled to opinions which are necessary to enable them to discharge their particular duties under the Constitution. Thus, unless an interpretation of existing statutory law pertains directly to proposed or pending legislation, such an opinion would serve no valid legislative purpose, and any such requests by legislators will accordingly be declined.

The second reason for declining opinion requests from legislators concerning existing statutes, and particularly requests as to their constitutionality, is more practical. This office is required by law to defend existing statutes, or any interpretation and application of these statutes adopted by the executive branch of government, if challenged in a court of law. Consequently, we are not in a position to issue opinions on the constitutionality of existing statutes, or the validity of a particular executive interpretation, absent some unique circumstance, such as a court decision calling into question that very issue.

As indicated, we also wish to provide some suggestions in order to expedite our responses to your opinion requests. Such requests should always be accompanied by the relevant proposed or pending legislation, and any pertinent amendments to that legislation. Likewise, copies of any other documentary material necessary to answer your specific questions should also be attached. The failure to do so may well result in a delay to your response.

Opinion requests should always set out your specific legal concerns or questions. Requests such as "Is this law constitutional or legal," are simply too vague and thus inappropriate for a response from this office. Consequently, any such requests will be returned for a more detailed and specific statement of the issue or issues you wish addressed.

In closing, I assure you that we are committed to serve all members of the Legislature and their staffs as effectively as possible. We shall try our best to be responsive, competent and prompt. We welcome your suggestions as to how we can serve you better. In this regard, we would also note that this office is always available for informal discussion of any legal issues pertinent to any valid legislative purpose.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

Opinion No. 86003
January 3, 1986

To: Senator Harold F. Sieck

Subject: Effect of LB 662 referendum on LB 54

This is in response to your letter of December 11, 1985. In that letter you are concerned about the constitutionality of LB 54 in view of the current referendum concerning LB 662. You note that LB 54 would provide that property taxes will supply 50 per cent of the financing for public schools with your proposed income tax providing the remaining 50 per cent. This would, in effect, alter the provision of LB 662 which provides that "the Legislature hereby establishes that after fiscal year 1986-87, no more than forty-five per cent of the total operational costs of the public school system shall be derived from taxes on real property. . . ."

In our previous opinions on the subject of the referendum and LB 662, we have stated that "After the referendum has been invoked and until the voters have acted thereunder, the subject-matter of the referred bill is withdrawn from further consideration of the Legislature. It can neither amend nor repeal the act during that period." See opinions No. 121, July 25, 1985, and No. 130, September 17, 1985. To the extent that LB 54 would amend LB 662 as indicated above, it would be in violation of the Constitution as an interference with the people's constitutionally guaranteed right of referendum.

You have also asked whether the use of a state income tax to finance public education as provided in your bill, LB 54, would violate any state statutes. In view of our above response, we do not believe it is necessary to respond to this question at this time. In any event such a request is simply too broad for an appropriate response from this office. See our opinion No. 157, date December 20, 1985.

We would, however, be glad to respond to your "specific" concerns in this regard.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
 Attorney General

Sec. 2. Introduction of New Bills. (a) Members shall introduce only such bills as they are willing to endorse and support personally. The last name and district shall be used, unless an initial or name is necessary to identify the introducer.

(b) A standing committee or special committee may introduce a bill for any purpose, including at the request of another senator, provided said bill receives the endorsement of a majority of the committee members whose names shall be on the bill.

(c) No bills shall be introduced after the seventh legislative day of the 1986 regular session, except:

1. "A" bills, appropriation bills, and bills introduced at the request of the Governor may be introduced at any time;

2. A standing committee or special committee may request that the Legislature consider introduction of a bill. A vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature shall be required for such bill to be introduced, and a copy of the statement of intent for such bill must be placed on each member's desk before introduction of the bill is voted upon;

(d) Individual members shall not be limited as to a bill introduction. Each committee shall be limited to 8 bills each session.

Bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall be included within the limitations prescribed by this section. Bills introduced under Rule 5, Section 3(a) and bills introduced at the request of the Governor will not be included in the limitation.

(e) The introducers of all bills must submit a statement of intent for each bill to the appropriate committee chairperson at least 24 hours prior to the bill's hearing. The statement of intent should discuss clearly and completely the purposes and effects of the bill.

Sec. 3. The Reference Committee shall refer all bills and constitutional amendments to the appropriate committee or to General File. The appropriate committee is that committee which has subject-matter jurisdiction over the issue or which has traditionally handled the issue.

Sec. 4. Sec. 5. Any introducer of a bill or constitutional amendment, or in the case of a committee bill, the committee chairman, may file a motion to revive a bill which stands indefinitely postponed pursuant to Rule 10, Section 4. Such motion must be filed within two legislative days of the report of the committee required by Section 4. This motion must be disposed of within two legislative days after its filing. RULE 10 - 1986 Session Rules

Sec. 1. Rules promulgated and adopted as part of Rule 10 shall be in force and effect for the 89th Legislature, Second Session, only. The intent of this rule is to establish a special procedure for the selection of priority bills and constitutional amendment resolutions during the 1986 regular session only.

All other rules, except for Rule 5, Section 5, as adopted by the 89th Legislature, Second Session, shall be in force and effect except where they may come in conflict with any of the provisions of Rule 10. In such a case, the provisions of Rule 10 shall control.

Sec. 2. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate two bills as priority bills. Such priority bills need not be the designator's bills, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) The bills designated as priority bills in the 1985 ninety-day session shall not carry over their priority status into the 1986 sixty-day session, but may be designated as one of the senator's two priority bills of the 1986 session.

(c) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline. The designation deadline shall be the fifteenth legislative day of the 1986 session.

(d) A senator may withdraw a priority designation at any time, but will not be allowed to designate another bill as a priority bill in its place.

(e) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(f) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on General File in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with two or less dissenting votes on a consent calendar. Any bill placed on consent calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.

(g) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except that priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds shall be held on Final Reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. A priority bill which fails to advance after two votes on General File, or after one vote on Select File, shall return to nonpriority status.

(h) No priority bill designated under this rule shall have priority over appropriations bills.

- 1 1. Insert the following new sections:
2 "Section 1. That section 79-1522.01, Revised
3 Statutes Supplement, 1984, be amended to read as
4 follows:
5 79-1522.01. In lieu of the school retirement
6 allowance provided by section 79-1522, any member who is 7 an employee of a Class I, II, III, IV, or VI school
8 district and who becomes eligible to make application
9 for and receive a school retirement allowance under ~~the~~ 10 ~~provisions of~~ sections 79-1520 and 79-1521 may elect to 11 receive a formula annuity retirement allowance.
12 Subject to the other provisions of this 13 section, the monthly formula annuity in the normal form
14 shall be determined by multiplying the number of years
15 of service for which such member would otherwise receive 16 the service annuity provided by section 79-1522, (1) by 17 one and one-quarter per cent of his or her final average
18 compensation, (2) by one and one half per cent of his or 19 her final average compensation, or (3) by one and 20 sixty-five hundredths per cent of his or her final
21 average compensation. If the annuity begins prior to 22 the sixty-fifth birthday of the member and the member's
1 age plus the member's years of creditable service equals

2 ninety or more years, no reduction in the annuity shall
3 be made. If the annuity begins prior to the sixty-fifth
4 birthday of the member, the member has completed five or 5 more years of creditable service, and the member's age
6 plus the member's years of creditable service equals
7 less than ninety years, the annuity at the date it
8 begins shall be the actuarial equivalent of the formula
9 annuity deferred to the sixty-fifth birthday of the 10 member. A member must have acquired the equivalent of 11 one half year of service or more as a public school
12 employee under the school retirement system following 13 August 24, 1975, to be eligible for computation of his 14 or her formula annuity using one and one-quarter per 15 cent of his or her final average compensation as one of 16 the factors, must have acquired the equivalent of one
17 half year of service or more as a public school employee
18 under the school retirement system following July 17,
19 1982, to be eligible for computation of his or her 20 formula annuity using one and one half per cent of his 21 or her final average compensation as one of the factors, 22 or must have acquired the equivalent of one half year of 23 service or more as a public school employee under the 24 school retirement system following July 1, 1984, to be
25 eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity
26 using one and sixty-five hundredths per cent of his or
1 her final average compensation as one of the factors.

2 The normal form of the formula annuity shall
3 be an annuity payable monthly during the remainder of
4 the member's life with the provision that in the event
5 of his or her death before sixty monthly payments have
6 been made the monthly payments shall be continued to his
7 or her estate or to such beneficiary as he or she shall
8 have designated until sixty monthly payments have been
9 made. A member may elect to receive in lieu of the 10 normal form of annuity an actuarially equivalent annuity
11 in any optional form provided by section 79-1530.

12 Final average compensation shall be determined
13 by dividing the member's total compensation subject to 14 required deposits for the three fiscal years in which
15 such compensation was the highest, by thirty-six. If a
16 member has such compensation for less than three such 17 fiscal years his or her final average compensation shall
18 be determined by dividing his or her total compensation
19 in all such years by twelve times the total number of 20 years of his or her service therefor. A member must

21 have acquired the equivalent of one half year of service
22 or more as a public school employee under the school
23 retirement system following August 24, 1975, to be
24 eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity
25 using only five fiscal years in the determination of his 26 or her final average compensation.

1 All formula annuities shall be paid from the
2 Annuity Reserve Fund. Upon the granting of a formula
3 annuity, there shall be transferred to the Annuity
4 Reserve Fund: (a) From the Service Annuity Fund, the
5 value of the service annuity which would otherwise be
6 payable; (b) from the School Employees' Savings Fund,
7 the accumulated contributions of the member; and (c)
8 from the School Employer's Deposit Fund, the value of 9 the formula annuity in excess of the amounts transferred
10 from the Service Annuity Fund and the School Employees'
11 Savings Fund.

12 For the purpose of providing the funds to be 13 transferred from the School Employer's Deposit Fund for 14 formula annuities, every employer shall be required to 15 make deposits in the School Employer's Deposit Fund.
16 Such deposits shall be a uniform percentage of the 17 required contributions of the school employees of each
18 employer and shall be transmitted to the retirement
19 board at the same time and in the same manner as such
20 required employee contributions. In the fiscal year
21 commencing July 1, 1968, such uniform percentage shall
22 be twenty per cent of the required school employee
23 contributions. For each fiscal year thereafter such
24 uniform percentage shall be determined by the retirement
25 board upon recommendation of the actuary and shall be 26 determined by deducting from the then present value of
1 all future amounts to be transferred from the School
2 Employer's Deposit Fund the amount then credited to such
3 fund and dividing the remainder by the present value of
4 the prospective future required contributions of all
5 employees of the school districts covered by this
6 section.

7 Sec. 2. That section 79-1522.02, Revised
8 Statutes Supplement, 1984, be amended to read as
9 follows:

10 79-1522.02. No provision of section 79-1512, 11 79-1522.01, 79-1531, 79-1533, or 79-1540 which would 12 result in an increase in benefits that would have been 13 payable prior to July 1, 1984, shall apply to any person

14 until that person has acquired the equivalent of one
15 half year of service or more as a ~~public~~ school employee
16 under the school retirement system following July 1,
17 1984.

18 No provision of sections 79-1522.01, 79-1529, 19 79-1531, or 79-1533 which would result in an increase in 20 benefits that would have been payable prior to July 1, 21 1986, shall apply to any person until that person has 22 acquired the equivalent of one half year of service or 23 more as a school employee under the school retirement
24 system following January 1, 1986.

25 Sec. 3. That section 79-1529, Reissue Revised
26 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
1 follows:

2 79-1529. If any member ceases to be a school
3 employee for any reason other than death, before
4 qualifying for retirement under sections 79-1520 and
5 79-1521, the board shall, upon request, issue him or her
6 a certified service record and statement of accumulated
7 contributions and retain such member's accumulated
8 contributions. In such event, no further contributions
9 shall be required, interest on accumulated contributions
10 shall continue to be credited to his or her account, and 11 none of the member's retirement rights shall be 12 canceled. At age sixty-five or at any time the member's 13 age plus the member's years of creditable service is 14 ninety or more years, such member shall become eligible
15 to the retirement allowance provided in sections 79-1522
16 and 79-1522.01. Any deferred formula annuity provided
17 shall be based on the member's salary preceding the date
18 of termination as if the member had retired on his or 19 her date of termination. At the option of the 20 terminating member, if his or her age plus years of 21 creditable service is less than ninety years, such 22 annuity may commence at any time after such member
23 attains the age of sixty and before his or her
24 sixty-fifth birthday on an actuarially reduced basis.
25 Such election by the terminating member may be made at 26 any time prior to the commencement of the annuity
1 payments.

2 Sec. 4. That section 79-1531, Revised
3 Statutes Supplement, 1985, be amended to read as
4 follows:

5 79-1531. (1) Each member of the retirement

14 purpose of providing an annuity or other benefit as 15 provided in sections 79-1501 to 79-1557.

16 (2) The employer shall pick up the member
17 contributions required by this section for all 18 compensation paid on or after January 1, 1986, and the 19 contributions so picked up shall be treated as employer
20 contributions in determining federal tax treatment under 21 the United States Internal Revenue Code, except that the 22 employer shall continue to withhold federal income taxes
23 based upon these contributions until the Internal 24 Revenue Service, or the federal courts, rule that,
25 pursuant to section 414(h) of the United States Internal 26 Revenue Code, these contributions shall not be included
1 as gross income of the member until such time as they
2 are distributed or made available. The employer shall 3 pay these member contributions from the same source of 4 funds which is used in paying earnings to the member.
5 The employer shall pick up these contributions by a
6 salary deduction either through a reduction in the cash
7 salary of the member or a combination of a reduction in 8 salary and offset against a future salary increase.
9 Member contributions picked up shall be treated for all
10 purposes of sections 79-1501 to 79-1565 in the same
11 manner and to the same extent as member contributions
12 made prior to the date picked up.

20 sixty-five hundredths per cent of his or her final
21 average compensation. If the annuity begins prior to 22 the sixty-fifth birthday of the member, the annuity at 1 the date it begins shall be ~~the actuarial equivalent of~~
2 ~~the formula annuity deferred to the sixty-fifth birthday~~
3 ~~of the member~~ reduced by (a) three per cent for each
4 year after the member's sixtieth birthday and prior to 5 his or her sixty-fifth birthday and (b) five per cent
6 for each year after the member's fifty-fifth birthday
7 and prior to his or her sixtieth birthday. A member
8 must have acquired the equivalent of one half year of 9 service or more as a public school employee under the 10 school retirement system following August 24, 1975, to 11 be eligible for computation of his or her formula
12 annuity using one and one-quarter per cent of his or her 13 final average compensation as one of the factors, must
14 have acquired the equivalent of one half year of service
15 or more as a public school employee under the school
16 retirement system following July 17, 1982, to be
17 eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity
18 using one and one half per cent of his or her final 19 average compensation as one of the factors, or must have 20 acquired the equivalent of one half year of service or 21 more as a public school employee under the school
22 retirement system following July 1, 1984, to be eligible
23 for computation of his or her formula annuity using one 24 and sixty-five hundredths per cent of his or her final 25 average compensation as one of the factors.

26 The normal form of the formula annuity shall
1 be an annuity payable monthly during the remainder of
2 the member's life with the provision that in the event
3 of his or her death before sixty monthly payments have
4 been made the monthly payments shall be continued to his
5 or her estate or to such beneficiary as he or she shall
6 have designated until sixty monthly payments have been
7 made. A member may elect to receive in lieu of the
8 normal form of annuity an actuarially equivalent annuity
9 in any optional form provided by section 79-1530.

10 Final average compensation shall be determined

11 by dividing the member's total compensation subject to 12 required deposits for the three fiscal years in which
13 such compensation was the highest, by thirty-six. If a
14 member has such compensation for less than three such 15 fiscal years his or her final average compensation shall
16 be determined by dividing his or her total compensation
17 in all such years by twelve times the total number of 18 years of his or her service therefor. A member must
19 have acquired the equivalent of one half year of service
20 or more as a public school employee under the school
21 retirement system following August 24, 1975, to be
22 eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity
23 using only five fiscal years in the determination of his
24 or her final average compensation.

25 All formula annuities shall be paid from the 26 Annuity Reserve Fund. Upon the granting of a formula
1 annuity, there shall be transferred to the Annuity
2 Reserve Fund: (a) From the Service Annuity Fund, the
3 value of the service annuity which would otherwise be
4 payable; (b) from the School Employees' Savings Fund,
5 the accumulated contributions of the member; and (c)
6 from the School Employer's Deposit Fund, the value of
7 the formula annuity in excess of the amounts transferred
8 from the Service Annuity Fund and the School Employees'
9 Savings Fund.

10 For the purpose of providing the funds to be
11 transferred from the School Employer's Deposit Fund for 12 formula annuities, every employer shall be required to
13 make deposits in the School Employer's Deposit Fund.
14 Such deposits shall be a uniform percentage of the 15 required contributions of the school employees of each
16 employer and shall be transmitted to the retirement
17 board at the same time and in the same manner as such
18 required employee contributions. In the fiscal year
19 commencing July 1, 1968, such uniform percentage shall
20 be twenty per cent of the required school employee
21 contributions. For each fiscal year thereafter, such
22 uniform percentage shall be determined by the retirement
23 board upon recommendation of the actuary and shall be 24 determined by deducting from the then present value of
25 all future amounts to be transferred from the School
26 Employer's Deposit Fund the amount then credited to such
1 fund and dividing the remainder by the present value of
2 the prospective future required contributions of all
3 employees of the school districts covered by this

4 section.

5 Sec. 2. That section 79-1529, Reissue Revised
6 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
7 follows:

8 79-1529. If any member ceases to be a school
9 employee for any reason other than death, before
10 qualifying for retirement under sections 79-1520 and
11 79-1521, the board shall, upon request, issue him or her
12 a certified service record and statement of accumulated
13 contributions and retain such member's accumulated
14 contributions. In such event, no further contributions
15 shall be required, interest on accumulated contributions
16 shall continue to be credited to his or her account, and
17 none of the member's retirement rights shall be 18 canceled. At age sixty-five such member shall become 19 eligible to the retirement allowance provided in 20 sections 79-1522 and 79-1522.01. Any deferred formula
21 annuity provided shall be based on the member's salary
22 preceding the date of termination as if the member had 23 retired on his or her date of termination. At the 24 option of the terminating member, such annuity may 25 commence at any time after such member attains the age
26 of ~~sixty~~ fifty-five and before his or her sixty-fifth
1 birthday ~~on an actuarially reduced basis and shall be~~
2 ~~reduced by the percentages prescribed in section~~
3 79-1522.01. Such election by the terminating member may 4 be made at any time prior to the commencement of the 5 annuity payments.”.

6 2. On page 12, line 15, after “sections”
7 insert “79-1529,”; and in line 17 after “sections”
8 insert “79-1522.01,”.

9 3. In the Standing Committee amendments,
10 AM1112, on page 1, line 3, strike “7” and insert “9”.

11 4. Renumber the remaining sections
12 accordingly.

MOTION - Escort Governor

Mrs. Labedz moved that a committee of five be appointed to escort the Governor to the Chamber to deliver his State of the State and Budget Message.

The motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Warner, Harris, Hannibal, Mesdames Higgins, and Smith to serve on said committee.

The committee returned and escorted Governor Robert Kerrey to the Rostrum where he delivered the following State of the State and Budget Address:

Mr. Speaker, members of the legislature, and fellow Nebraskans, I stand before you to deliver my fourth and what for me is my final State of the State Address.

My intentions are to describe for you the condition of Nebraska as I see it, and to frame for you what I believe is the prudent course for State government this next fiscal year. As I look at and listen to Nebraska I am reminded of the scene upon which I looked in the days and weeks which followed the Omaha tornado of May 6, 1975.

Only a small percentage of Omahans suffered a direct loss to the health of themselves, their families, or to their property on that day. Within a miraculous span of hours the debris had been cleared from the streets, power had been restored, and all essential services were being delivered at their normal levels. Unless you drove into the disaster area or paid attention to what was being described by the media, you might be completely unaware that a tornado had ripped through the entire North-South length of Nebraska's largest city.

Despite the occurrence of the city's most spectacular disaster, life in Omaha went on pretty much as usual. Sure, for a day or two there were a few road blocks and occasionally a slow moving truck loaded with the wreckage of someone's house or business that might delay an important trip to the post office of the local shopping center. And most of the natives had their own personal story to tell about where they were and how they survived. However, the startling first impression that I recall most vividly is how life managed to go on.

In fact, the disaster somehow made us stronger. It rekindled in us the awe and respect we should always have for natural forces as well as our Faith in the God who sets them into motion. Proud and haughty men and women became humble and bowed as they faced again the fragile and finite condition of our lives. The gratitude we felt to be alive spread into our attitude towards our families and our work.

Suddenly we saw a world that had somehow escaped us before: We saw the world that exists outside of our own lives. We saw people who had been hurt and who were in trouble, and we volunteered to help them without considering ourselves first. The generosity and help which was offered to those who needed it created an infectious mood that could be felt and which, I believe, contributed substantially to a startling result: Omaha, devastated by a tornado, came together as a community and became stronger as a result.

As I view our State today I see the same kind of damage and the same kind of potential. The damage is largely to our agricultural sector and the impact in many ways is more substantial than what happened to Omaha in 1975. The damage is more wide spread and is more serious. Its cause is not a natural disaster around which we almost instinctively rally with private and public support. Its cause is a combination of Federal action and inaction as well as profound changes in both the competitors' capacity to produce and in the consumers' volume and quality of purchases.

In short we find ourselves caught as a casualty of successful Federal efforts to control inflation and the insidious ability of that government to sell bonds when it is unwilling to make the taxpayers pay for all of the government they receive. We are also struggling to adjust to a market place that is changing rapidly every day: Not only have the numbers of competitors increased, but the type of food demanded by the consumer is rapidly being altered by lifestyles, income, health considerations, and the desire for variety.

Despite this disaster I am able, for every one of the reasons that can be named for us to despair and be resigned to a dark and dreary future to point to ten more reasons to be optimistic and hopeful. And every reason I cite is based upon examples of citizens who are responding forcefully and imaginatively to the challenge. Every reason is based upon the hope, the faith, the love and the work of our people.

Nebraskans are prepared to respond as a community to the disaster which has struck our State. Nebraskans are willing to make the selfless sacrifices which will be the essential ingredients of our movement to a stronger and better tomorrow.

At the beginning of this address during which I will outline my proposals for helping our citizens accomplish this difficult task let me caution you against doing one dangerous and counterproductive thing: Do not let the arguments and the difficult choices contained in the budget deliberations inhibit our attempts to offer constructive solutions. Our people want us to spend according to our means (and these means could shrink if the Revenue Forecasting Committee reduces their projection for available revenue when they meet in February) but they want much more.

They want a State response to the crisis we face in Agriculture.

They want a State response to the need to create new wealth, jobs, and growth.

They want a State response to the desire to improve our schools, colleges, and University.

They want a State response to the desire to preserve, protect and develop our natural resources.

They want a State response to the dislocation and suffering which will be evident in greater numbers in the coming years.

They want a State response to the need to help our poor, our disadvantaged, our disabled and our aged.

They want action and not just reaction as we work together to plan our future.

Agriculture and Natural Resources

The first area where action is required is in production agriculture. We all know there is a crisis in Nebraska agriculture. We have seen unprecedented declines in the value of our assets and have in the past five years lost nearly $20 billion in equity. Producers who have been regarded as our strongest and most substantial have watched helplessly as their net worth is eaten away by the cost of paying interest expenses in excess of what their income can handle.

Farmers and ranchers have gone broke and turned to other lines of work. Banks and other rural businesses have closed up never to reopen. The fabric of most of our rural communities is under some kind of serious and growing stress.

It is also true that the recitation of these difficulties can become overwhelming and counter-productive. It is not easy to grieve and to help those who need us now more than ever, while remaining hopeful that something can be done and being committed to do what is necessary.

In the midst of this uncertainty, we must not lose track of the positive qualities on which this state was built. We cannot afford to become so caught up in short-term problems that we lose the long-term vision of a viable and productive state.

Consistent with my belief that tomorrow will be better if we make the effort today I am proposing the following:

1. Allocation of General Fund dollars to match the Federal Commitment to build a Food Processing Institute at the University of Nebraska. Although we will not know the exact amount of money needed until the U.S.D.A. completes its feasibility study on February I, I support the appropriation of the amount needed to hold the Federal Commitment of $5.5 million. Senator Warner has a bill which will accomplish this and I whole heartedly support it.

There are three basic reasons why this Processing Institute will be one of the best investments we can make in our economic future. The first is that in the coming years there will be increasing numbers of opportunities for the creation of wealth and jobs. The unmet market needs of the future in processing, packaging, buying, selling, marketing, storing, and transportation will be filled by people who possess the knowledge and the skills necessary to identify and deliver them. The Processing Institute will insure that Nebraskans in increasing numbers will take advantage of these opportunities.

The second reason, is that the addition of value to the raw agriculture product enables us to reverse the colony like status of our State. Rather than trying only to compete with producers of other nations by trying to reduce the cost of our raw products, we will be taking advantage of the American gift for innovation and invention which in the long run this will enable us to attack and stay more competitive in the marketplace.

The third reason, is that the processing of our own products brings us closer to the marketplace and enables us to take more control of our own destiny. It will provide needed off-farm income and will also give us a more stable demand for the products we produce.

It is important to recognize that this proposal is designed to build on an existing strength. We have exceptional people with exceptional skills working under the direction of Chancellor Roy Arnold at the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. And the processing industry is already present and strong in Nebraska. As evidence of this I cite the full endorsement of the Processing Institute by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents and the Food Processing Foundation, a recently formed organization composed of private and profitable Nebraska processors.

2. I am also proposing the creation of the Nebraska Agricultural Authority whose central objective will be to:

1. Increase the number of family farm units in Nebraska,

2. Stabilize the land market through an orderly disposition of ag land held by financial institutions, and
3. Provide a means for the farmer to be self-sufficient in today's trying agricultural economy without a government bail-out.

The Authority, as proposed, would exist as a quasi-governmental body capable of owning and selling real estate, capable of accessing the capital markets, and capable of making direct investments in agricultural enterprises.

As you may already know, we have begun discussions with the Farmers' Home Administration Nebraska financial institutions regarding the purchase and sale of farm land held by these institutions due to foreclosure proceedings. Currently, FmHA holds approximately 30,000 acres of farm land in inventory. We believe Nebraska commercial banks own a similar amount of land. It is important for all parties, and the State in general, that we provide a means for orderly transferring this land to private ownership, and back into productive use. I believe the Ag Authority is the proper vehicle to achieve this objective.

Additionally the Authority could enhance the availability of capital in rural Nebraska by creating a secondary market for loans to farmers and ranchers.

3. I also support the work of Senator Rod Johnson in the development of a State Farmstead Act. This will provide additional options for partial instead of total liquidation and will give producers that are facing foreclosure a way to remain on the land.

4. We must continue the work of the Farmers-In-Transition program which received the 1985 Distinguished Performance Award from the National Alliance of Business. The work of Mollie Anderson and Greater Nebraska Job Training Council has been outstanding.

With a one million dollar grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, we have been able to expand the program, now known as Ag-in-Transition. An integral part of this comprehensive assistance plan has been the establishment of six ag action centers across the state. These centers provide assessment, counseling and referral services to displaced and financially distressed farmers.

5. The Visions from the Heartland project has illustrated the depth of positive, community-based commitment that exists in this State. This grass-roots effort has involved over 500 Nebraskans discussing the future of their state, their region, and their communities. Rural communities, while under stress, are committed not only to survival but to prosperity and growth.

6. We must also continue our commitment to the natural resources which are the basic assets of our agricultural economy.

We must never underestimate the importance of soil and water to the vitality of our state. Topsoil is a productive asset only as long as it remains in the field. The amount I have included in my budget is the bare minimum required for this effort. The Natural Resources Commission has recently completed a Comprehensive Soil Conservation Plan that graphically and convincingly illustrates the dangers inherent if we ignore this important effort.

7. A high priority must be placed on the protection of our water quality. During recent years, the Department of Environmental Control has studied the technical aspects of ground water quality, reviewed the legal mechanisms necessary to protect ground water and developed a Ground Water Quality Protection Strategy. It is now time to implement that strategy.

I met recently with the chairmen of four legislative committees to discuss proposed ground water legislation for 1986. At that meeting, I emphasized that this administration will actively assist in passage of legislation concerning chemigation, underground storage tanks, well drillers licensing legislation, and legislation that will provide us with a mechanism to deal with present or future contamination in any area of the State.

Based upon this meeting, I believe we have an excellent opportunity to pass legislation that is fair, workable and effective in preventing ground water contamination. This State has an abundance of good quality ground water, and passage of the proposed legislation will be an indication to the citizens of Nebraska that we are going to protect this valuable resource for future generations.

Economic Development

The proposals I have just outlined comprise the agricultural component of a larger economic agenda for Nebraska. In addition to rebuilding our ag economy, there is a need to diversify. States with a broad economic base are the most resilient. We must be prepared to take advantage of the opportunities presented by the information age.

Advanced technology industries are growing at an unprecedented rate. Nebraska has a strategic advantage with its strong telecommunications system. The challenge before us is to exploit that advantage and use it to solve problems and improve productivity in existing business, and to generate new business and industry.

We must face the reality that Nebraska taxpayers have limited resources to devote to an economic development initiative designed to capture the potential of advanced technology. A logical solution is to forge a partnership among those who stand to gain from advanced technology development, pool their resources, and coordinate efforts. A partnership of this nature would enable a coalition of Nebraska leaders to direct resources strategically.

To help accomplish this, I am proposing the creation of a Nebraska Research and Development Authority. This Authority, comprised of leadership from the private sector, education, and state/local government, will evaluate, support, and encourage the development of ideas into commercially viable ventures. The initiatives of the Authority will be market-driven, seeking to transfer technological developments to the private sector for job expansion, to government for increased efficiency, and to the educational community for preparing Nebraska citizens for the future age. I am recommending that a $2 million General Fund appropriation be made available for this purpose.

I visualize three components of the innovation process that will be addressed by the Authority. First, the Authority will direct resources to basic research, including the generation of new ideas and determination of their technical feasibility. The Authority is designed to compliment, rather than replace, existing technology transfer mechanisms such as the Technical Assistance Center.

Second, the Authority will provide a source of seed capital for the development and incubation of commercially-viable ideas. I am proposing that the Small Business Development Authority be merged into the Research and Development Authority for this purpose. Initial capitalization will be provided by Community Development Block Grant funds. Third, the Authority will provide linkages between venture capitalists and entrepreneurs with ideas ready for commercialization.

In allocating its resources, the Authority (and in a larger environment, state economic development policy) should be guided by a set of principles that address the economic needs of Nebraska:

First, emphasis should be placed on the development of businesses that export products and services outside the state. This will help to offset the capital we export.

Second, import-substitution businesses must be emphasized. Development of products and services that can replace those currently being imported will also keep capital in the state.

Third, development of high value-added businesses must be sought. These ventures typically employ skilled labor and advanced technology, and offer significant potential for increased per capital wealth in the state.

Fourth, emphasis should be placed on ventures which increase productivity of existing business. Technological developments which improve the output/cost ratios of Nebraska businesses and agricultural operations should receive a priority.

Fifth, a priority should be placed on commercially viable ideas that diversify the state's economic base. We must seek out and develop new products and services that will expand our range of economic activity.

Finally, special consideration should be given to ventures which will operate in distressed areas or which are run by women or minorities.

The Research and Development Authority is without question a major initiative. It is also undeniably a long-term proposition. I would be less than candid if I told you there would be large-scale, immediate payoffs. Nevertheless, I feel passionately that we must be willing to make this investment, to build this partnership, to link the resources that will enable us to build our economy from within.

Higher Education

I want to turn now to Higher Education.

Two months ago, during the Second Special Session, a most telling cartoon appeared in the Lincoln Sunday Journal-Star. It was one of those Paul Fell zingers we in the Statehouse are so fond of. The caption read, "After the Fall," and the sketch depicted some tottering pillars, a jumble of masonry, and a fallen lintel, on which was inscribed, "Nebraska Higher Education." At the time, many across the state accused us of presiding over the ruination of our postsecondary institutions.

That very recent, very gloomy political cartoon is instructive to us today. In a dramatic way, it shows us how a defeatist attitude can dull our determination and rob us of vision. It also dramatizes for us how a little resolution on our part can avert disaster. The fact is, we did not destroy NU, the State Colleges, or the Technical Community Colleges. Instead, you Senators rose to the challenge and provided the necessary revenue increases to strengthen the revenue base and avoid further cuts.

We are not out of the woods yet, but the elements of a long-term resolve to build a strong and up-to-date postsecondary education system are falling into place. "Linkage" -- traditionally a foreign policy concept -- is now being applied to our policy decisions to higher education. For instance, there can be no question that a vibrant learning enterprise is essential to a vibrant economic future. Likewise, we now see clearly that bare-bones education will only guarantee economic stagnation and a mediocre quality of life. So, higher education and economic development are linked.

What we invest and what we receive also are linked. The drama of the last day of the Special Session, once and for all, settled the "free lunch issue" as far as the University is concerned. Those of us who truly want to see NU strengthened can no longer ignore the obsolescence of our revenue structure in a changing economy. Without a dependable revenue flow, we cannot have dependable financial support for higher education.

Finally, where we want to go with our universities and colleges, and how we propose to get there, certainly are linked. I submit to you that the toughest choices in higher ed are still before us, and they are not, at their root, financial. In many parts of the country, business leaders, politicians and educators have shown that they can join together to lift their states out of the doldrums. The key difference in those states, however, is that they are trying to manage their future, not trying to preserve the past. I am asking that you, the Legislature, together with the leadership of our institutions, with the faculty on whose teaching and researching skills and dedication we depend, and finally with our industrial and business leadership--that we all join to act for a better future for postsecondary education in Nebraska.

My basic budget offers a realistic 2.6% operating increase for higher education. We can provide needed financial stability for the learning process, rather than engaging in damage control. The framework provided by the Citizens Commission for the Study of Higher Education, identifies these opportunities:

--PROGRAM QUALITY AND EFFICIENCIES:

First, in the area of program quality and efficiencies, I will continue to encourage our governing boards and administrators to focus the offerings at their institutions.

One of the things that often isn't appreciated is the need for presidents and governing boards to make tough, long-term management decisions. In exercising oversight, we also have to leave them some latitude. Allowing institutions to retain savings they generate from reallocations should be a guiding principle of state policy. Only in that kind of environment can this state build true "Centers of Excellence."

--NEBRASKA'S ECONOMY AND QUALITY OF LIFE:

Second, higher education affects our economy and our quality of life.

The issue here plainly is not to protect a static set of campuses and programs against change and economic reality. We have to acknowledge that the wide-open days of higher education are over. In that limited sense, the "After the Fall" cartoon was indeed accurate. Instead, the issue for the 80s and 90s is judicious investment. My budget, therefore, provides funding for the crucial areas of research, development and incubation through the Research and Development Authority I have already described. Most of the state research and seed funding, not to mention the private dollars that will be joined to the Authority, will in fact be available to our educational institutions. The difference is that these added funds will be targeted to specific areas. The Food Processing Institute is also targeting in an area of growth, strength, and great potential.

In the area of governance and coordination: there lies the biggest challenge. Privately, I have been told many times that we simply can't go on with two different boards for our four year institutions, or without state authority over the six governing boards of our public two-year institutions. LR 32, the constitutional amendment which you advanced to Select File last session, is a very good step in the direction of better governance and coordination. I urge you to send that proposal to the people, and give them the chance to decide, next November, whether or not the Regents should be appointed to staggered, six-year terms.

Other changes are needed as well. While we have three totally separate public higher education systems, our Coordinating Commission is down to almost nothing. My budget will allow them to maintain their tiny staff and to continue the important new academic program review process.

I hope you will reflect carefully on Nebraska's opportunities in higher education. The importance of our vision and stamina in support of this critical function of state government cannot be overemphasized.

I believe we must in Higher Education do two things simultaneously. First we must recognize the importance of new knowledge to meet the demands of the future. Our University, State Colleges, and Technical Community Colleges are all blessed with dedicated and gifted educators and administrators doing their best to provide us with the human skills we so desperately need.

Second, we must look into the future and attempt to direct our scarce resources into areas which will be most important. I believe that we will not only have to make difficult choices concerning the allocation of these dollars, but we will also have to constantly assess the standards of performance required for admission and retention.

Primary/Secondary Education

In the area of primary and secondary education: our schools remain the best long-term investment we can make in our future. Building schools for the future requires sound decisions made today about finances, curricula, fixed plant and equipment, personnel, and proper allocation and usage of resources. These sound decisions must be made by citizens whose commitment to self-government translates into service on local school boards and entry into this most difficult arena of politics.

Nowhere is the difficulty of making decisions about our educational system more evident than in the case of LB 662. Nearly one year ago, this body took an historic and courageous step in adjusting our government to the changes we face now and in the future. I applaud your efforts and will work diligently to see that LB 662 is retained in November.

The opponents of this landmark legislation have at times resorted to misinforming the public about its impact. LB 662 is said to be the product of the dreaded teachers' union; that it will cause the death of rural schools and rural Nebraska; and that it simply provides a reason for higher government spending. While I respect the right of these people to present these arguments, I urge the citizens of Nebraska to consider calmly that LB 662 will bring Nebraska in line with the other states that it will increase government efficiency by reducing the number of governmental units in Nebraska, now among the highest in the nation; and that it will shift the support of our school system away from property taxes, enabling us not only to build better schools, but also a more solid foundation for economic development and growth.

We must also continue the drive for excellence in our schools that began with the enactment of LB 994. Emerging technologies and a global society will require our children to learn more science, math, and foreign languages than the children of 25 years ago. We need to put as much effort into ensuring that children learn these subjects as we do in recruiting a winning coach.

Much remains to be done, but our present state tax structure limits our options. I feel strongly that the future of Nebraska warrants an investment in the 994 educational enhancements. I will gladly support efforts to secure a suitable revenue source to fund LB 994 which will unquestionably improve the strength and quality of our schools.

Government Reorganization

My decision not to seek re-election has created an opportunity for a review of the executive branch unfettered by the personal considerations of an incumbent Governor. While there are many areas of excellence within state government, there is considerable room for improvements that should lead to increased efficiency. My experience over the past three years has led me to the conclusion that some expansion in the authority of the Chief Executive is in order. Based in part on recommendations from task forces on management improvement and government reorganization under former Governors, I am proposing several changes in the organizational structure and management practices of state government.

These changes will, in my opinion, increase the responsiveness and accountability of state government to the executive elected by the people and thereby to the citizens of the state.

In addition, the passage and approval of the Gramm-Rudmann Deficit Control Act will almost certainly result in reduced federal funds for many programs. It will also increase the need for quick and coordinated responses to rapidly changing circumstances. If we are to efficiently manage the resources that are available we must have a management structure that makes sense. With potential federal fund reductions of about 1% for FY 86 and 8% for FY 87 a more streamlined organization is a necessity.

My proposals in the area of government reorganization fall into three general categories: First, creation of four umbrella agencies to coordinate the work of numerous agencies, boards and commissions in the areas of cultural affairs, public safety, professional licensure and natural resources; Second, the merger of several agency functions into other departments; and Third, giving code agency status to numerous independent agencies, giving the Governor authority to appoint the Director. In some cases, there is more than one improvement option, and I am open to your recommendations in those areas.

The objective in creating four umbrella agencies is to increase coordination, efficiency and accountability of numerous functions now handled by separate departments, boards and commissions.

The umbrella agencies, under the direction of an executive appointed by the Governor, will serve as the coordination mechanism. The existing agencies would retain their current structure as divisions within the larger department. The boards and commissions would continue to advocate priorities, assist in policy development, and retain any regulatory authority they may have.

The Department of Cultural Affairs is designed to coordinate many current activities in the area of cultural enhancement. Entities that would operate under this umbrella include the Nebraska Arts Council, Library Commission, Humanities Committee, Sheldon Gallery, State Historical Society, and ETV Commission. The Department of Public Safety combines several agencies and commissions that deal with safety standards and regulations. The division of structural safety would include the State Fire Marshal, Safety division of the Department of Labor, Electrical Board and Division, Manufactured Housing Board, and Mobile Home/RV Board. Other commissions included under the Department of Public Safety are the Racing Commission, Athletic Commission, Parole Board, Liquor Control Commission, and Crime Commission. I have specifically excluded the State Patrol; I feel the interests of the public are best served if the Patrol remains as a free-standing Code department.

The Department of Professional Licensure will oversee several boards and commissions that regulate various professions, including the Boards of Engineers and Architects, Land Surveyors, Landscape Architects, Public Accountancy, Abstracters, Real Estate, Barber Examiners, and the Collection Agency function of the Secretary of State. These agencies, which are mostly small, will better serve their clientele once they no longer have to handle personnel, budgeting, and accounting on their own. More importantly, citizens will have a central location for licensure and professional standards information. This arrangement currently works well for health professions in the Department of Health.

The Department of Natural Resources will combine the Natural Resources Commission, Department of Water Resources, and the UNL Conservation and Survey Division. This change will consolidate the bulk of Nebraska's water and soil data analysis and planning functions.

The second category of reorganization proposals is the merger of several functions into different departments. These changes are designed to combine related regulatory and program functions in a more logical fashion, and include the following:

1. Transfer of the revenue and recordkeeping functions of the Department of Motor Vehicles to the Department of Revenue, and the Highway Safety Division to the Department of Roads.
2. Merger of the Foster Care Review Board into the Dept. of Social Services.
3. Merger of the Departments of Banking and Insurance.
4. Merger of the Public Employees Retirement Board and the Investment Council.
5. Merger of the Hearing Impaired and Visually Impaired Commissions and the Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Dept. of Education into the Dept. of Social Services.
6. Merger of the Board of Barber Examiners with the Health Dept.

Finally, in the area of reorganization, I am proposing that the Governor be granted the authority to appoint the executive director of nine boards and commissions, including:

1. Liquor Control Commission
2. Library Commission
3. Real Estate Commission
4. Postsecondary Education Coordinating Commission
5. Historical Society
6. Arts Council
7. Electrical Division
8. Racing Commission
9. Motor Vehicle Industry Licensing Board

In addition to reorganization, I am offering two executive management changes for your consideration. These proposals are designed to give the Governor and the agency heads he or she appoints more flexibility in building the executive team.

First, I firmly believe all statutory qualifications and requirements for agency heads appointed by the Governor, with the exception of the Director of Health and the Adjutant General, should be eliminated. The current stipulation associated with many executive positions have proven to be a serious limitation on the Governor's ability to hire effective managers. Legislative confirmation should be the only formal requirement. The two exceptions I cited are unique cases where the expertise of a physician and previous military experience are justifiable requirements.

Second, the number of exempt positions within agencies should reflect the size of the department. At present, very few upper-level management positions turn over with a change in administrations, particularly in large departments. I am proposing that the number of exempt positions within code agencies be proportional to the number of departmental employees.

Finally, I feel strongly that the demands placed on the constitutional offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor, and Public Service Commission warrant an increase in compensation. I am endorsing concept of the phased-in salary increases for these offices contained in LB 43 developed by Senator Landis and the Government Committee. I am also encouraging you to give strong consideration to legislation dealing with the salaries of our judiciary which is needed to keep us in a position to attract and retain the most competent judges possible.

Budget

The budget and revenue recommendations I am presenting to you assume the reduction of the income tax rate from 20% to 19% and no increase in the sales tax rate. At their recent meeting, the Economic Forecasting Advisory Board projected net revenues for next year of $867.5 million. After the necessary adjustments, deficits, repayment of the Cash Reserve Fund, the available revenue for FY 86/87 is $869.1 million. Subtracting the required 3% reserve would leave $843.8 million for next year's budget. That amount should be adequate to meet the legitimate needs of the State and its citizens.

It is safe to assume that during the course of the session there will be some differences of opinion as to how those dollars should be allocated. We were all elected to voice those opinions. We have a responsibility to ourselves and our constituents to advocate our positions. In these difficult times, however, I believe that we have a higher obligation to our taxpayers and that is to do what is necessary to live within our means. The economic sacrifices cannot be limited to the budgets of the family, the farm and the business--we must apply the same constraints on ourselves.

The details of my recommendation have been provided to you and the various proposals will form the basis for much of the discussions during upcoming weeks.

The overall General Fund recommendation is $841.0 million which is 3.7% over the budget adopted in the Special Session.

The recommendation is distributed as follows:

State government operations would increase by $8.6 million or 4.4%.

Higher Education--a $5.4 million increase or 2.6%.

State Aid increases by $26.5 million or 6.7%.

Included in my budget is a 3% salary increase for State employees. Including higher education and State operations, the cost of that increase is approximately $10.5 million. We cannot afford to ignore that, in the final analysis, it is the quality and dedication of our employees that determines the success or failure of our efforts.

Capital Construction

My recommendation for Capital Construction for 86/87 continues the major projects that have been previously authorized.

I am recommending that we authorize the University to issue bonds for the construction of the Animal Science Building in Lincoln and the Lab Science Building at UNO. By pledging a portion of our cigarette tax revenues for five years, we will be able to reduce the General Fund obligations for next fiscal year by almost $9.5 million. This will allow us to proceed on these two important projects taking into consideration the present value of money will also save us costs in the long run. In addition, I remain committed to the construction of the Lied Center for Performing Arts. This project will contribute greatly to our State and our University.

For the Department of Corrections, I am proposing that we begin the process for the construction in FY 87/88 and FY 88/89 of a new Adjustment Center at the penitentiary. During the past several years Nebraska has wisely invested significant resources to the construction of correctional facilities. As a result, we have not faced the tremendous problems faced by many other states in this area. We need to continue that forward working philosophy and avoid problems rather than being forced to try to correct them after the fact.

Finally, I am recommending a $1.0 million increase for the 309 Task Force. The source of funds would be a lapse of unneeded cash funds from the Department of Insurance. Perhaps no other program that we operate can be so directly linked to actually saving the State money as the wise maintenance of our physical facilities. Whether for energy conservation, timely repairs or preventive improvements, these expenditures return great benefits in the future.

In regards to Commonwealth, I remain strongly convinced that the state has a moral obligation to the depositors of Commonwealth. We have approved a partial remedy; but further action is needed to satisfy the full $20.5 million obligation. I am offering three alternative proposals to deal with Commonwealth, any one of which I will approve if it reaches my desk.

1. State Office Building Lease/Purchase. The City of Lincoln would issue tax-exempt bonds on behalf of the state to generate funds for the depositors. To secure the bonds, the State would provide a first lien on the State Office Building in addition to the lease agreement.

2. Tax Credit. This legislation would grant a tax credit to depositors in the amount of their loss. The credit would either be taken against Nebraska income taxes or sold to someone who could make better use of the credit.

3. Motor Vehicle Sales Tax. The proceeds from the motor vehicle sales tax will be placed in the Commonwealth relief fund for six months. This length of time should be sufficient to raise the necessary $12 million.

I urge your approval of one of these options as a means to bring justice to Commonwealth depositors.

In the area of tax reform I will continue to argue that Nebraska citizens are best served by a tax system which has a minimum number of deductions and exemptions. These items, which all make sense when taken in isolation, over time and under the stress of accumulation, require our citizens to pay higher rates than they would if they were not granted.

This narrowing of the base on both the sales and income tax side does more than force us to tax at rates that are higher than would otherwise be required. They also lend a tint of privilege to our taxes which works against the average citizen who is not represented by the special interest which is needed to lobby for special tax favors. Taken together this means that fewer people support government services than benefit from them and that greater numbers of Nebraskans continue to correctly conclude that their tax system is not fair.

I urge this body to consider carefully the recommendations of your special committee which is studying a sales tax on services. Further, I urge you to begin the discussion of the wisdom Nebraska granted all deductions and exemptions granted by the federal Government against our income tax. I pledge to work closely with your revenue committee to discover if we can accomplish what will unquestionably be a major benefit to public confidence in their taxes.

There are many other important things which are included in this budget.

Our efforts to protect ourselves by hiring law enforcement people, by hiring the best to run our correctional facilities, by recruiting a just and fair judiciary, and by ensuring that they have the finest training ensures that our freedoms are full and complete.

Our efforts to care for our citizens who cannot afford the cost of medical services and nursing homes; our struggle to provide for the poorest of our neighbors; our fight to guarantee a life of hope and health to our neighbors who are mentally retarded or mentally ill; our work to keep our environment healthy and free of life robbing pollutants; our continued investment in our roads and bridges; and our spectacularly successful creation of the best parks in the entire nation will be rewarded by a State of which we can rightly be proud.

To fully live up to the fullest potential as representatives of our people we must in this short legislative session pay homage to those citizens who have preceded us with lives of sacrifice and dedication. We can only deliver this homage by rededicating ourselves to service that is committed to justice, to equity, to prosperity and to the happiness of all our citizens.

When our forefathers were faced with a similar dilemma fifty-odd years ago they simultaneously embarked upon a remarkable exercise in creativity. This spectacular capitol was fashioned in tough times. The landscape architect plucked trees from citizens' lawns in order to provide beauty to capitol grounds. Today I shall charter a similar effort that will put one of the finishing touches on Goodhue's world renowned landmark.

I am reactivating the capitol murals commission to complete the mural program designed for the capitol's 14th floor, Memorial Hall. These eight mural panels, as originally conceived, will honor those Nebraskans who made the supreme sacrifice for our state and nation during civil and military service.

This structure has been and will continue to be a source of pride for all Nebraskans. As such, we owe it to those who had the courage to build it, the same kind of dedicated spirit this building symbolizes. Let's make this mural project a special gift to all Nebraskans at a time when we need to be optimistic.

WHEREAS, national studies have shown that early identification of children with many handicapping conditions and early intervention leads to increased potential for learning and development of such children as well as reduced costs in special education programs in later years; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress is currently considering legislation reauthorizing the Education for Handicapped Children Act; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's preschool program for handicapped children has been a forerunner and model for use by other states; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature's Select Committee for Services to Handicapped Children under Age Five has made several recommendations to improve the quality, effectiveness, and efficiency of preschool programs for handicapped children, including improved coordination of assessment and programs, strengthened coordination of prevention programs, a new emphasis on parent involvement in teacher training programs, and strengthened Nebraska research and data collection programs.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature continues to support the preschool program for handicapped children.

2. That the Legislature supports the concept of early identification and intervention.

3. That the Legislature supports federal early intervention research now being conducted at Early Intervention Research Centers and supports continued monitoring of such research and increased state research activities to determine which types of handicapping conditions are most successfully addressed by special types of early intervention programs.

4. That the Clerk of the Legislature send a copy of this resolution to each member of the Nebraska Congressional delegation.

Laid over.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District; Pappas, 42nd District; Haberman, 44th District.

WHEREAS, the University of Nebraska at Curtis has major regional significance to western Nebraska and,

WHEREAS, animal and veterinary science research and service is extremely important to agriculture in Nebraska and,

WHEREAS, alternative funding mechanisms are being considered by the federal government for expanding projects which strengthen agriculture and,

WHEREAS, recently approved redirection of federal funds appropriated for the Old West Regional Veterinary College are being considered.

WHEREAS, it is imperative to act quickly on federal proposals in order to make these reallocations possible.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE SECOND SESSION:

1. That the University of Nebraska at Curtis, by and through the University of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Legislature, be offered to the federal government for its headquartered campus for animal and veterinary science research.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 316.

Introduced by Education Committee: Vickers, 38th District, Chairperson; Baack, 47th District; Eret, 32nd District; Lamb, 43rd District; Morehead, 30th District; Nelson, 35th District.

PURPOSE: To study alternatives to special education for students with learning problems. The costs of special education and the growth in special education programs over the last decade has brought about efforts to develop strategies to contain growth which is not cost-effective. The state should consider the effects of these strategies on students who may no longer qualify for special education services.

The study should include an examination of the feasibility of establishing alternative programs for those with learning problems, including a consideration of funding for compensatory or remedial programs, block grant programs for the mildly handicapped, and other methods by which regular education programs can be supplemented to provide services for students with learning problems without identification and labeling of such students as handicapped.

The study should consider (1) programs in other states, (2) cost-efficiencies in various compensatory programs as opposed to funding through special education, (3) the availability of services through Chapter I programs, and (4) any other factors necessary to assess the feasibility of compensatory education programs as an alternative to special education.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

Introduced by Education Committee: Vickers, 38th District, Chairperson; Baack, 47th District; Eret, 32nd District; Lamb, 43rd District; Morehead, 30th District; Nelson, 35th District.

WHEREAS, the Department of Roads purchases vehicles for the Nebraska Public Transportation Program through the Department of Administrative Services; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Roads receives an eighteen to twenty-two per cent discount off the sticker price of these vehicles because of the quantity of vehicles purchased; and

WHEREAS, the Transportation and Related Services subcommittee of the Special Education Cost Containment interim study, LR 151, recommended that such a procedure be used in the purchasing of vehicles for special education programs, utilizing the discount for buying in mass quantity rather than each school bidding separately for these vehicles.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature directs the State Department of Education and the Department of Administrative Services to examine the feasibility of utilizing a system such as the one used by the Department of Roads in purchasing vehicles for the transportation of students in special education programs.

2. That the State Department of Education and the Department of Administrative Services report the results and the recommendations of their study to the Education Committee of the Legislature by November 1, 1986.

A Resolution to propose an amendment to Article III, sections 2 and 3, of the Constitution of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

Section 1. That at the general election in November 1986 there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article III, sections 2 and 3, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

CIII-2 "The first power reserved by the people is the initiative whereby laws may be enacted and constitutional amendments adopted by the people independently of the Legislature. This power may be invoked by petition wherein the proposed measure shall be set forth at length. If the petition be for the enactment of a law, it shall be signed by ~~seven~~ eight per cent of the electors of the state and if the petition be for the amendment of the Constitution, the petition therefor shall be signed by ten per cent of such electors. In all cases the electors signing such petition shall be so distributed as to include five per cent of the electors of each of two-fifths of the counties of the state and when thus signed the petition shall be filed with the Secretary of State, who shall submit the measure thus proposed to the electors of the state at the first general election held not less than four months after such petition shall have been filed. The same measure, either in form or in essential substance, shall not be submitted to the people by initiative petition, either affirmatively or negatively, oftener than once in three years. If conflicting measures submitted to the people at the same election be approved, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall thereby become law as to all conflicting provisions. The constitutional limitations as to the scope and subject matter of statutes enacted by the Legislature shall apply to those enacted by the initiative.

CIII-3 The second power reserved is the referendum which may be invoked, by petition, against any act or part of an act of the Legislature, except those making appropriations for the expense of the state government or a state institution existing at the time of the passage of such act. Petitions invoking the referendum shall be signed by not less than ~~five~~ eight per cent of the electors of the state, distributed as required for initiative petitions, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State within ninety days after the Legislature at which the act sought to be referred was passed shall have adjourned sine die or for more than ninety days. Such petition shall set out the title of the act against which the referendum is invoked, and in addition thereto, when only a portion of the act is sought to be referred, the number of the section or sections or portion of sections of the act designating such portion. When the referendum is thus invoked, the Secretary of State shall refer the same to the electors for approval or rejection at the first general election to be held not less than thirty days after the filing of such petition.

When the referendum is invoked, as to any act or part of act, other than emergency acts or those for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, by petition signed by not less than ten per cent of the electors of the state, distributed as aforesaid, it shall suspend the taking effect of such act or part of act until the same has been approved by the electors of the state.”.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by Article XVI, section 1, of the Constitution of Nebraska. The proposition for the submission of the proposed amendment shall be placed upon the ballot in the following form:

AM1740

- 1 1. Strike beginning with the first WHEREAS
- 2 through the last period in paragraph 4. and insert:
- 3 "WHEREAS, pursuant to Public Law 280, the
- 4 State of Nebraska was granted criminal and civil
- 5 jurisdiction over the Winnebago Indian Reservation in
- 6 1953; and
- 7 WHEREAS, the assumption of state jurisdiction
- 8 over the Winnebago Reservation has led to steadily
- 9 increasing costs for civil and criminal law enforcement
- 10 in Thurston County, such costs falling heavily upon the
- 11 taxpayers of Nebraska and Thurston County since the
- 12 federal government has wholly failed to provide federal
- 13 financial assistance for P.L. 280 law enforcement; and
- 14 WHEREAS, due to the tax-exempt status of
- 15 tribal trust land and individual Indian allotments on

16 the Winnebago Reservation, Thurston County has not had a 17 sufficient tax base to meet the ever-increasing costs of 18 law enforcement on the Winnebago Reservation; and

19 WHEREAS, since 1957 state assistance has been 20 provided for law enforcement purposes in Thurston
21 County, and the cost of this assistance has increased
1 each biennium; and

2 WHEREAS, Public Law 90-284 adopted as an Act
3 of Congress on April 11, 1968, contains a number of 4 provisions dealing with civil rights and jurisdiction of 5 Indians; and

6 WHEREAS, Section 403 (a) of Public Law 90-284
7 provides that the United States is authorized to accept
8 a retrocession of all or any measure of the jurisdiction
9 acquired by a state pursuant to Public Law 280 of 1953;
10 and

11 WHEREAS, the Winnebago Tribe has petitioned
12 the State of Nebraska to effectuate retrocession of 13 criminal jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation to 14 the United States and has demonstrated the capability to 15 assume its portion of associated responsibilities; and

16 WHEREAS, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has 17 confirmed that it will detail law enforcement personnel
18 to the Winnebago Reservation immediately upon the 19 effective date of retrocession, thereby assuring that a 20 law enforcement vacuum will not result; and

21 WHEREAS, the Nebraska State Patrol, the 22 Winnebago Tribe, and the Bureau of Indian Affairs have 23 agreed to enter into a cross-deputization agreement to 24 be effective on the date of retrocession to fully

1 empower (1) all officers of the Nebraska State Patrol to 2 enforce all federal and tribal laws within the exterior
3 boundaries of the Winnebago Reservation and (2) Bureau
4 of Indian Affairs and tribal officers to enforce all
5 state laws within the Winnebago Reservation; and

6 WHEREAS, due to recent publicity concerning 7 Indian gaming activities nationwide, many citizens of 8 Nebraska believe that the Winnebago Tribe wishes to 9 achieve retrocession in order to broaden its authority
10 to conduct unregulated gaming activities, yet according 11 to opinions issued by the Department of Justice of the 12 State of Nebraska, federal courts, and other 13 authorities, retrocession will in no respect affect the 14 rights of the Winnebago Tribe to undertake gambling
15 activities; and

16 WHEREAS, the Winnebago Tribal Council, on 17 behalf of the Winnebago Tribe, passed a resolution dated 18 January 9, 1986, declaring it 'has no intention to, nor 19 will it, establish any gambling operations that 20 contravenes either state or federal law, nor does it
21 have any plans whatsoever to establish any gambling
22 operations on the Nebraska portion of the Reservation
23 prior to the year 2000 A.D.'; and

24 WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature thus
1 concludes, based on the law and upon the representations
2 made by the Tribe, that gambling and gaming operations
3 are not pertinent to the issue of retrocession and that 4 retrocession will not grant the Tribe any additional 5 authority to undertake such operations.

6 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS
7 OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND
8 SESSION:

9 1. That the Legislature retrocedes criminal
10 jurisdiction over the Winnebago Reservation acquired by 11 the State of Nebraska pursuant to Public Law 280 of 12 1953, such retrocession to be effective at 12:01 A.M.,
13 July 1, 1986.

14 2. That the State of Nebraska and its
15 political subdivisions shall take all necessary action
16 to effectuate this resolution, including cooperative
17 agreements with the Winnebago Tribe, the Bureau of 18 Indian Affairs, or the Department of Interior deemed by 19 the affected parties to be necessary to enhance the 20 efficiency and effectiveness of criminal law enforcement
21 on the Winnebago Reservation.”.

AM1713

(Amendments to the Standing Committee amendments)

- 1 1. Strike amendments 1 and 2 and insert the
- 2 following new amendment:
- 3 "1. Strike the original sections and insert
- 4 the following new sections:
- 5 'Section 1. The Legislature hereby finds and
- 6 declares that an untapped source of economic development
- 7 in Nebraska is the promotion and development of the film
- 8 and television production industry in this state.
- 9 Currently several Midwestern states fund formal film
- 10 offices and are successfully attracting film and
- 11 television production into their states. Because of
- 12 this effort, millions of dollars are being added to the

- 14 compete for these valuable dollars and to promote
- 15 Nebraska as a desirable location for motion picture and
- 16 television production, a formal state-funded film office
- 17 shall be created.
- 18 Sec. 2. There is hereby created an office to
- 19 be known as the Nebraska Henry Fonda Film and Television
- 20 Office to be under the direction of the Department of
- 1 Economic Development. The Director of Economic

2 Development shall appoint a person to serve as the 3 Director of the Nebraska Henry Fonda Film and Television
4 Office to coordinate the activities of such office. The 5 director of the office shall receive a minimum annual 6 salary of twenty-five thousand dollars.

7 Sec. 3. The duties of the Nebraska Henry
8 Fonda Film and Television Office shall include, but not 9 be limited to, the following:

10 (1) To promote Nebraska as a location for

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86007

January 17, 1986

To: Senator Donald Eret

Subject: LB 638, unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to the United States Secretary of Agriculture.

This is in response to your letter of December 2, 1985. In that letter you ask us to reconsider our letter to Senator Rod Johnson of April 12, 1985, (copy enclosed), concerning LB 638. That letter simply stated that we had the same objections to LB 638 as we had to LB 551 (1983) as set forth in Attorney General Opinion No. 40, March 9, 1983.

LB 638 would adopt the parity prices established by the United States Secretary of Agriculture as a basis for the minimum sale prices of certain commodities in Nebraska. The parity prices are calculated by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to 7 U.S.C.A. §1301. As we read these provisions of federal law, they grant considerable discretion to the Secretary in establishing these parity prices. This calculation is not simply a mathematical process.

The law in Nebraska is clear that the Nebraska Legislature cannot delegate its legislative authority to be exercised by administrative officials, be they the state or federal officials. Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N.W. 492 (1935), Lincoln Dairy Company v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N.W.2d 227 (1960). This is what LB 638 does, by granting discretionary authority to the Secretary of Agriculture who calculates parity prices, which in turn determine the minimum sale prices for the State of Nebraska.

The fact that the Nebraska Legislature may be in session when such prices are calculated by the Secretary is not relevant. Once the law has been enacted, it constitutes a delegation of legislative authority. The mere fact that the Legislature might act in the future to change this law if it should disagree with the actions taken by the Secretary is of no consequence. The law would be unconstitutional as enacted.

For the foregoing reasons, we reaffirm our opinion No. 40, dated March 9, 1983, and our letter to Senator Rod Johnson, dated April 12, 1985, concerning LB 638.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86010
January 27, 1986

To: Senator Jim Goll

Subject: Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320(3)(b); LB 759

QUESTION: May a motor vehicle, sold by a licensed dealer to an ultimate purchaser, and bearing "In Transit" stickers as provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-320(3)(b), haul complete vehicles, which are properly licensed, from the seller's place of business to the purchaser for purposes of delivery of the vehicle to the purchaser and transportation back for a driver?

CONCLUSION: The ultimate purchaser may operate such a motor vehicle for a period of 15 days in order to effect proper registration, which would enable said purchaser to haul complete vehicles which are themselves properly licensed.

Neb.Rev. Stat §60-320(3)(b) (Supp. 1985) provides that:

Subject to all the provisions of law relating to motor vehicles and trailers not inconsistent with this section, any person, firm, or corporation holding a dealer's license issued pursuant to the laws of this state, . . . and who desires to effect delivery of any motor vehicle or trailer bought or sold by him or her from the point where purchased or sold to points within or outside this state may, solely for the purpose of such delivery by himself or herself, agent, or bona fide purchaser, drive such motor vehicle or pull such trailer on the highways of this state without charge or registration of such vehicle or trailer Such transit decal shall allow such owner to operate the motor vehicle or pull such trailer for a period of fifteen days in order to effect proper registration of the new or used motor vehicle or trailer, . . . (Emphasis added.)

The section quoted above provides that registration of vehicles sold or purchased by a licensed dealer is not required. Instead, delivery of those vehicles may be effected by the use of "In Transit" decals. However, the statute is specific in providing that the use by a licensed dealer of "In Transit" decals is solely for the purpose of such delivery. The use of an "In Transit" decal by a licensed dealer is limited to delivery only, and that licensed dealer may not operate the vehicle for other purposes which are permitted under regular dealer's license plates or regular registration. See, Opinion of the Attorney General, No. 261, August 26, 1958.

However, §60-320 does provide that the owner of a motor vehicle may operate said vehicle or pull such trailer for a period of 15 days in order to effect proper registration of the new or used motor vehicle or trailer. It is important to note that there is a distinction between the use of "In Transit" decals by licensed dealers and ultimate purchasers. The ultimate purchaser may operate the motor vehicle or pull such trailer for the designated period in order to effect proper registration. There does not appear to be any restrictions on the ultimate purchaser during the in transit period. Therefore, it is our conclusion that ultimate purchasers, as opposed to licensed dealers, may haul complete vehicles, which are properly licensed, during the in transit period. The ultimate purchaser is responsible for effecting the appropriate registration for whatever use is made of said vehicle during the in transit period. A licensed dealer may not utilize an "In Transit" decal for any other purpose than delivery, and could not haul other vehicles as described above.

It is apparent from your letter that the instant situation involves the delivery by the licensed dealer of a motor vehicle to an ultimate purchaser, and transportation back for a driver. We assume, for purposes of this opinion, that the driver is an employee of the licensed dealer. We specifically do not comment upon any contractual arrangements between the ultimate purchaser and the operation of his or her motor vehicle by an employee of the licensed dealer. Such questions are beyond the scope of this opinion. The only question addressed is the use of an "In Transit" sticker by an ultimate purchaser other than a licensed dealer.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86014
February 5, 1986

To: Senator Emil E. Beyer, Jr.

Subject: Constitutionality of LB 761 -- Double Taxation

This is in response to your request for an opinion on the constitutionality of LB 761. Your concern is whether this bill would require double taxation for citizens affected by its provisions.

LB 761 provides for continued jurisdiction by a fire protection district over territory annexed by a city or village, either by agreement with the municipality, or as a result of a district court ruling. In regard to the issue of taxation, the bill provides specifically as follows:

Nothing contained in this section shall authorize any district to levy any taxes or special assessments within the annexed area after the effective date of a annexation, except that if a city or village and a fire protection district agree or a court orders that the boundaries of the fire protection district shall continue to include all or a portion of the territory annexed by the city or village, the fire protection district shall have authority to continue to levy taxes in such territory, and the city or village shall exclude from its tax levy on real property in such territory any assessment for fire, rescue, or similar services provided by the fire protection district.

Assuming that the municipalities can determine that portion of their tax levy which is allocated for fire, rescue, or similar services provided by the fire protection district, the bill would specifically preclude double taxation on real estate. The provision as written, however, applies only to real property, and thus any personal property in the district would be subject to the burden of double taxation. Taxes would not be levied "uniformly and proportionately" on all property and the bill would nevertheless be unconstitutional from this standpoint.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS

Introduced by Eret, 32nd District.

WHEREAS, Don E. Apley, Sr. of Geneva, Nebraska, a member of the Silver-Haired Legislature representing the thirty-second legislative district passed away on November 23, 1985; and

WHEREAS, in addition to being a valued member of the Silver-Haired Legislature, Mr. Apley was an active member in many civic and local organizations; and

WHEREAS, his many years of service were worthy and are deserving of recognition by the Legislature.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the members of the Legislature extend deepest sympathy to the family of Don E. Apley, Sr.
2. That a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of Don E. Apley, Sr. as an expression of recognition of his accomplishments.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 342.

Introduced by Vickers, 38th District; Nelson, 35th District; R. Johnson, 34th District; Schmit, 23rd District.

Whereas, Nebraska's agricultural land is a valuable and productive resource which should be protected, and

Whereas, soil conservation programs have historically provided funding for conservation practices which protect the productivity of the land while it remains in active use as cropland, and

Whereas, recent budget decisions of the United States Department of Agriculture will eliminate funds for conservation practices on land in active crop production use and provide funds only for withdrawing land from active crop production use, and

Whereas, totally eliminating funds for conservation practices on land in active crop production use will increase soil and water conservation problems and abandon a program with a long history of success, and

Whereas, due to extreme financial distress, it will be impossible for many Nebraska farmers to withdraw land from production, and

Whereas, providing funds only for land retirement programs will have a negative effect on the local economy in most of Nebraska, and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION,

1. That the Legislature urges the United States Department of Agriculture to recognize the continuing need for soil conservation funding programs, and reallocate funds now committed to land retirement programs to these historically successful soil conservation programs, and

2. Recognizing that the Congress has only Forty five days to act on this matter, the Legislature urges our Congressional delegation to give this issue their immediate attention and concern.

Laid over.

Opinion No. 86011
February 6, 1986

To: Senator DeCamp

Subject: Constitutionality of Granting One Vote to the Three Student Members of the Board of Regents.
(LR 306CA)

Question: Would the granting of one vote to three student members of the Board of Regents, as a group, violate the "one man, one vote" principle, the U.S. Constitution or the Nebraska Constitution?

Conclusion: Such action as proposed in LR 306 CA would not violate the "one man, one vote" principle. Yet it would defy both the U.S. Constitution Fourteenth Amendment Equal Protection Clause and Nebraska Constitution Article VII Section 10.

The U.S. Supreme Court has held that the "one man, one vote" principle is irrelevant where an election is not involved nor required. Sailors v. Kent Board of Education, 387 U.S. 105 (1967). Student members are not elected to the Board of Regents. Article VII Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution in effect appoints the Student Body Presidents to the Board by operation of law. The eight regents are elected to the Board. A combination of elected and appointed members is permissible for nonlegislative state agencies. Id. at 111. The Board of Regents is essentially administrative. Board of Regents v. County of Lancaster, 48 N.W.2d 221, 154 Neb. 398 (1951). Therefore the "one man, one vote" principle does not apply.

"The Equal Protection Clause does not of course require that the State never distinguish between citizens, but only that the distinctions that are made not be arbitrary or invidious." Avery v. Midland County, 390 U.S. 474, 484 (1968).

The Board is currently comprised of two classes of members. Student Members, who are nonvoting and Regents who are voting members. LR 306 CA proposes that each student member be given a one third (1/3) say in how one vote is to be cast. Once student members join the voting class they must be treated equally with other members of the class unless some reason that is not arbitrary or invidious exists for distinguishing them. A distinction based on student status or on appointed status is arbitrary and invidious. If the student members are to be granted the franchise they must be given one full vote each.

Article VII Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution provides

The general government of the University of Nebraska shall, under the direction of the Legislature, be vested in a board of not less than six nor more than eight regents to be designated the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, who shall be elected from and by districts as herein provided and three students of the University of Nebraska who shall serve as nonvoting members. . . . Their duties and powers shall be prescribed by law; (Emphasis added).

The Board of Regents consist of eight regents and three student members. The student members are not regents. They have no duties or powers prescribed by law. The regents exercise their duties and powers by majority vote. Therefore giving the student members one vote in effect makes them a regent--the ninth regent. Giving them one vote each expands the Board to eleven regents. The constitution and the proposed amendment specifically state that there shall be no less than six and no more than eight regents. The resolution would have to be reworded to expand the Board to more than eight regents.

We call to your attention that Neb.Rev.Stat. §85-103 does not acknowledge student membership on the Board. Consequently it is uncertain whether §85-106 prescribes any duties or powers for student members.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 86012
February 5, 1986

To: Senator Rupp

Subject: "One person, One Vote": Its Application to the Board of Regents Student Members.

You questioned whether granting voting rights to student members of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents would violate Article 1, Section 22 of the Nebraska Constitution and the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution. The Free Elections Clause, Neb. Const. art. I, §22, demands that each qualified voter be free to exercise the right to vote without any impediment. The general election of the Board of Regents by district is free and open to all electors of the district. Likewise, the process of electing a Student Body President for each of the university campuses does not impede the right of any student voter. Therefore we see no violation of the Nebraska Constitution in this respect.

The Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution presents a more complex situation. The 1974 Amendment to Article VII, Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution in effect appoints the Student Body President of each campus to the Board of Regents. That the Board of Regents is comprised of both elected and appointed members does not contravene the Equal Protection Clause. In Sailors v. Board of Education, the United States Supreme Court ruled "At least as respects nonlegislative officers, a State can appoint local officials or elect them or combine the elective and appointive systems as was done here." 387 U.S. 105, 111 (1967). The question then must focus on whether the Board of Regents is a legislative or administrative body.

The board appears to be legislative based on a cursory reading of its bylaws and empowering statute. Neb.Rev.Stat. §85-106 specifically grants: "The Board of Regents shall have power (1) to enact laws for the government of the university; . . .". The board's authority also includes the election of university presidents, deans, chancellors and others. It prepares and controls the annual budget, generally determines policy and sets guidelines for the university. However, the Nebraska Supreme Court stated that the Board of Regents is an administrative agency of the state with power to make rules and regulations germane to its legislated purpose. Board of Regents v. County of Lancaster, 48 N.W.2d 221, 154 Neb. 398 (1951). Because the Board of Regents is basically an administrative unit of the state exercising limited governmental powers, an election of regents is not required. The principle of "one person, one vote" only applies to elections of officials with essentially legislative responsibility. It does not apply to the Board of Regents.

Additionally, we call to your attention that Neb.Rev.Stat. §85-103 was not revised subsequent to the 1974 amendment to Article VII, Section 10. It does not provide for student membership on the Board of Regents and, consequently, is in conflict with the constitution.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 86015
February 13, 1986

To: Senator William E. Nichol

Subject: Constitutionality of LB 626 - Legislative Classification

This is in response to your letter of February 3, 1986. Your concern is the constitutionality of an amendment to LB 626, AM 1789, found on page 622 of the Legislative Journal.

The pertinent provision of this bill provides for the issuance of an "employment driving permit" to individuals whose license has been revoked for a violation of Neb.Rev.Stat. §§39-669.07 or 39-669.08 (Reissue 1984). The court may issue such a permit if

(a) the applicant shows by clear and convincing evidence that he or she (i) requires the use of a motor vehicle in the normal course of his or her employment and (ii) will lose his or her job if such permit is not issued; or (b) the applicant is self-employed and can prove that loss of the ability to drive the motor vehicle will prohibit or seriously impair such applicant's ability to continue such employment.

The provision goes on to provide that a person issued such an employment driving permit "shall operate a motor vehicle only during the normal course of employment."

The amendment to this bill would create the following exception to the above provisions by providing that "Any operator of a local commercial truck as defined in section 60-301, taxicab, or vehicle for which a class CC operator's license is required who is convicted of a violation of section 39-669.07 or 39-669.08 shall not be eligible for an employment driving permit."

Your specific concern is the constitutionality of the classification established by this amendment. In this regard, the Nebraska Supreme Court has stated that

A legislative classification, in order to be valid, must be based upon some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classified. Classifications for the purpose of legislation must be real and not illusive; they cannot be based on distinctions without a substantial difference. (Omission of citations). Classification is proper if the special class has some reasonable distinction from other subjects of a like general character, which distinction bears some reasonable relation to the legitimate objectives and purposes of the legislation. The question is always whether the things or persons classified by the act form by themselves a proper and legitimate class with reference to the purpose of the act.

State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598 at 609, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980).

The general purpose of the employment driving permit is to allow individuals to continue their employment if the use of a motor vehicle is necessary in the course of that employment. Quite obviously, the operators of local commercial trucks, taxicabs or vehicles for which a class CC operator's license is required, are individuals for whom the use of a motor vehicle is required in the normal course of their employment. There is no readily apparent basis for separating these particular individuals from other individuals who would be eligible for an employment driving permit and treating them in a harsher fashion. Numerous other types of occupations come to mind which require an individual to use a motor vehicle in the course of his or her employment and we can see no substantial rationale for treating the individuals singled out by the amendment any differently. Consequently, we would find it difficult to defend the amendment to LB 626 if it were to be challenged upon these constitutional grounds.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 86016
February 13, 1986

To: Senator Chris Abboud

Subject: Constitutionality of LB 578 as Amended

You have asked whether LB 578 as amended on February 10, 1986 by the Lynch Amendment is still constitutionally suspect as we concluded in Attorney General Opinion No. 57 (April 9, 1985).

In that opinion we addressed whether LB 578 as then proposed violated the Commerce Clause of the Federal Constitution. We concluded that it probably did. Requiring all out of state pharmacies dispensing prescription drugs into this state to hold a pharmacy permit issued by the Department of Health in this state and to comply with Nebraska law and rules and regulations governing the practice of pharmacy was more than an incidental burden on interstate commerce. Also, the state's interest in regulating the flow of controlled substances was adequately protected by the pertinent federal statutes. We pointed out that Congress had preempted regulation in this area of interstate commerce by enacting the Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act, 21 U.S.C. §801 et seq. but that Congress did not intend to preempt state regulation of interstate commerce involving controlled substances so long as any state regulation did not directly conflict with the act itself.

The Lynch Amendment retains the general rule that all out of state pharmacies dispensing prescription drugs into this state must have a permit issued by this state and must comply with Nebraska law and rules and regulations governing the practice of pharmacy. The Lynch Amendment then adds an exemption for such out of state pharmacies which hold a pharmacy permit in the state where they are located if the requirement and qualifications for such permit are substantially equivalent to those contained in specific sections of Nebraska statutes. That exemption is probably not in violation of the Commerce Clause so long as the Nebraska statutes used as the standard are consistent with the federal law which is controlling.

However, there are problems with the general rule. It would mean that a pharmacy located in another state which does not come within the exemption would have to get a permit from this state before it could dispense prescription drugs here. Neither the constitution of the federal government nor laws passed in pursuance of it have any force in foreign territory unless in respect to our own citizens. United States v. Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304, 318 (1936). Consistent with that, each state's sovereign power ends at the boundaries which separate it from the other sovereign states of the union. Thus Nebraska could not police another state to assure that an applicant for a permit or a permittee there complied with Nebraska law and the rules and regulations governing the practice of pharmacy.

These problems may be avoided by making the exemption in the Lynch Amendment the general rule, that is, by requiring that all out of state pharmacies dispensing prescription drugs into the State of Nebraska hold a pharmacy permit from the state in which the pharmacy is located and that such state have requirements substantially equivalent to those in this state and consistent with the federal law.

In conclusion, the exemption in the Lynch Amendment is probably valid under the Commerce Clause of the United State Constitution so long as the pharmacy laws of this state are consistent with the controlling federal law. However, the general rule in that amendment intrudes on the sovereignty of other states and cannot be enforced.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

the Constitution of this great state. I will endeavor to discharge my obligations and responsibilities in a competent, appropriate, and respectful manner.

This office has not determined that there are "blatant" violations of Initiative 300. This conclusion has been reached by addressing the inquiries from the Secretary of State, the appeal by a Nebraska bank pursuant to our successful defense of the constitutionality of the Initiative 300 amendment, and the current investigation of two complaints by both yourself, and Senator DeCamp.

Your letter indicates that there are insinuations on the floor of the Legislature that there are nonfamily farm corporations engaged in horse racing, Christmas tree farms, popcorn production, feeder pig co-ops, and cattle feeders. This office directly, or through communication and correspondence from the Secretary of State is not currently investigating any alleged violations of the activities mentioned in your letter of February 5, 1986, because not one person, syndicate, or corporation has been identified as a potential violator to this office.

Enclosed please find a copy of our opinion of May 8, 1985, to yourself, and a copy of a letter to Senator John DeCamp addressing similar issues raised by your letter of February 5, 1986.

This office is constantly alert to the responsibilities of enforcing the Constitution and the laws of this state. We have consistently, without question done so. I can only expect that this office will continue in the future to administer its responsibility pursuant to the guidance and directive of the Constitution and state laws.

We have endeavored not to take positions relative to the policies or implementation of the laws but rather seek to enforce the laws that our courts have held to be constitutional, or our Legislature has enacted. To do otherwise would diminish the authority and respect this office holds for the people and legislators of this state.

We appreciate your bringing to our attention your concerns about Western Sugar Company. We are conducting a prompt and thorough investigation in response to your request. We also ask that you bring to our attention any other specific situations where you feel there may be violations.

As always, I welcome your thoughts on improving the efficiency of this office, and look forward to further discussions.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

To: Senator John DeCamp

Following our meeting at which we discussed the questions you have raised concerning feedlots in the state which are owned and operated by corporations, and their legality under the provisions of Initiative 300, I have again examined an opinion of this office dated May 8, 1985, concerning that subject.

In that opinion, the question was whether or not a nonfamily corporation in existence prior to the adoption of Initiative 300 could continue to feed cattle after the adoption of 300.

In answer, the opinion points out that paragraph (D) of Initiative 300 provides that the provisions against corporate ownership of farm and ranch land or farming and ranching does not apply to {A}gricultural land, which, as of the effective date of this act, is being farmed or ranched, . . . so long as such land . . . shall be held in continuous ownership or under continuous lease by the same such corporation or syndicate.

The opinion then continues that paragraph (D) intends to authorize nonqualified corporation which possess an interest in farm and ranch land to continue to farm or ranch on these lands so long as they possess such interest after the adoption of Initiative 300.

Considering the evidence I have concerning the Granada feedlot and certain "grandfathered" feedlot corporations which you have referred to, I have concluded that the evidence does not support a violation of the provisions of Initiative 300, and that they are exempt from the restrictions of corporate farming and ranching because they are currently operating pursuant to Art. XII §8 (D) of our Constitution. This does not mean, however, that there may not be other violations by other corporations.

This office has successfully defended the constitutionality of Initiative 300 before the Lancaster County District Court, and we are presently awaiting a decision from our state Supreme Court following a persuasive argument in favor of the constitutionality of Initiative 300 by this office. In addition, this office investigated a northeast Nebraska feedlot that was allegedly violating Initiative 300. During our investigation, the lease of the feedlot in question and the operation of that feedlot was subsequently restructured to operate within the laws of Nebraska. Several other inquiries since Initiative 300 became a part of our Constitution have been forwarded to the Attorney General's office for investigation. Those inquiries did not produce criminal charges being filed, or court cases being commenced since the allegations proved to be unfounded.

To leave the impression that the Attorney General's office and other authorities have ignored violations of the constitutional prohibition because they fear public reaction to its enforcement is not a true or accurate reflection of our involvement in enforcing Initiative 300.

The Constitution requires that the Secretary of State monitor the corporate and syndicate agricultural land purchases and corporate and syndicate farming and ranching operations and notify the Attorney General of any possible violations. It must therefore be presumed that since the enactment of Initiative 300 that all corporate and syndicate agricultural land purchases and corporate and syndicate farming and ranching operations are being done so legally as it would be impossible to register a syndicate or file articles or incorporation for other than lawful purposes. This presumption can be rebutted by receiving allegations of violations of Initiative 300 that are proven to be factual.

To further highlight this I have requested the Secretary of State to advise me of the names of all corporations filed to do business in the State of Nebraska since the effective date of Initiative 300. There are approximately 1,936 filings of foreign corporations, and 7,536 filings of domestic corporations. This office does not have the resources, nor the manpower, nor the directive in law to affirmatively review each and every corporation licensed to do business in Nebraska to see if they are in fact violating Initiative 300. The spirit and intent of the constitutional amendment as provided by the people is to have the Secretary of State monitor the corporate and syndicate agricultural land purchases and the corporate and syndicate farming and ranching operations and notify the Attorney General of any possible violations. That has been done, and is currently being done.

The sheer numbers of the listing of the foreign and domestic corporate filings precludes this office from affirmatively investigating each corporation for a potential violation. This action would serve no useful purpose and would tend to have a chilling effect on the lawful activities of all corporations doing business in Nebraska. Additionally, as a sponsor of LB 587, you know that LB 587 was passed by the 1st Session of the 88th Legislature which eliminated the filing of annual reports of certain corporations holding agricultural land with the Secretary of State. The mechanism in Initiative 300 seems to adequately address the responsibility and power of the Attorney General's office for enforcement of Initiative 300.

In your letter of February 3 you have cited a number of hypothetical situations and have asked my opinion as to their legality. This office has always taken the position that it would be improper for us to address hypothetical situations. When we are presented facts which might indicate a violation of Initiative 300 this office will take immediate steps to determine whether or not there is in fact a violation and proceed accordingly.

I can assure you that, as in the past, if we have any evidence of any violations of Initiative 300, every effort will be made by this office to fulfill its obligations and responsibilities to the letter and spirit of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 86018
February 13, 1986

To: Senator Lee Rupp

Subject: Effect of LR 307 on Referendum on LB 662

This is in response to your inquiry which pertains to Legislative Resolution 307 (1986). Section 1 of LR 307 states as follows:

A Resolution to propose an amendment to Article VII, section 1, of the Constitution of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

Section 1. That at the general election in November 1986 there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article VII, section 1, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

CVII-1 "The Legislature shall provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this state of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years and shall ensure that all land in this state is within political subdivisions the specific purpose of which is to provide for the operation of the common schools and each of which offers public school instruction for kindergarten through the twelfth grade. The Legislature may provide for the education of other persons in educational institutions owned and controlled by the state or a political subdivision thereof."

I.

Does a Class VI school district, which includes Class I school districts within its boundaries, constitute a political subdivision "which offers public school instruction for kindergarten through the twelfth grade" under the provisions of LR 307?

The Nebraska Constitution does not classify school districts nor does LR 307. School districts are classified by statute. E.g., Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-102 (Reissue 1981). Thus, there is a threshold question of whether the classification in Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-102 (Reissue 1981) is constitutional in the event that LR 307 became operative law. There is also the question of whether or not Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-102 (Reissue 1981) would be amended in the event that LR 307 became operative law and if so, in what manner would school districts be classified. Consequently, we can not answer your question at this time.

II.

May the Legislature properly address the issue that is contained in LR 307 while LB 662 of the Eighty-ninth Legislature, First Session, awaits a vote of the people?

Section 1 of LB 662 of the Eighty-ninth Legislature, First Session (1985) provides "all Class I school districts of the state that were not within a Class VI school district on September 1, 1986, or affiliated with another school district prior to March 1, 1989, shall be merged with an existing Class II, III, IV, or V School district or become part of an existing Class VI school district." That legislative bill is the subject of a referendum which will be presented to the electorate at the next general election in November, 1986. If it were to become operative law, LR 307 would also be submitted to the electorate at the next general election in November, 1986. As noted above, it would amend section 1 of Article VII of the Constitution of Nebraska to provide that "all land in this state is within political subdivisions the specific purpose of which is to provide for the operation of the common schools and each of which offers public school instruction through the twelfth grade.”

If LB 662 were approved by the electorate it seems clear that it would eliminate certain common schools by a day certain that do not offer instruction through the twelfth grade. If LR 307 were approved by the electorate it also seems clear that it would eliminate certain common schools that do not offer instruction through the twelfth grade but on a date different from that in LB 662. Thus, it appears to us that LR 307 would amend section 1 of LB 662. In a letter to Senator Tom Vickers under date of September 17, 1985, we stated “the Legislature is prohibited from amending or repealing any of the specific provisions of LB 662.” We adhere thereto. We are therefore of the opinion that LR 307 is not a proper subject of legislative action at this time.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Chambers asked unanimous consent to print the following in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

February 14, 1986

The Honorable Robert Spire
Attorney General
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Re: REQUEST FOR OPINION AS TO WHETHER LB 772 MAY BE CONSTITUTIONALLY SUSPECT

Dear Attorney General Spire,

For the sake of clarity and in order properly to raise issues, this request will consist of narrative, examples and questions.

Great care and precision should have been exercised in drafting LB 772 because it seeks to restrict and criminalize fundamental First Amendment rights of free speech, assembly, association and even thought.

Rather than effectively curtailing undesirable speech and assemblages by so-called "hate groups" as argued by its sponsors, LB 772 may prove to be a trap for the unwary, entangling dissident farmers, striking workers, the unemployed and others who may engage in legitimate political speech and protest and assembly to seek redress of grievances.

QUERY. Is a constitutional problem created by placing total, unguided discretion in law enforcement officers who must guess as to whether the terms of LB 772 are violated, because intent, without anything more, is the crime?

I request that you review the following issues:

- a) Overbreadth, vagueness, ambiguity and speculativeness;
- b) No requirement of any overt act toward unlawful conduct;
- c) None of the targeted speech or conduct is unlawful, of itself;
- d) Overbreadth and imprecision of definitions;
- e) Imputation of the power to forecast with certitude the conduct of others;
- f) Assumption that law enforcement officers can read the minds of suspects;
- g) Provision of "escape hatch" which renders the entire bill nugatory.

QUERY. With or without LB 772, may "hate" and any other groups lawfully conduct instruction and training for self defense, assisting law enforcement during emergencies, Armageddon?

ANALYSIS OF LB 772

QUERY. Does LB 772 meet the requirement that definitions in criminal statutes be narrow, precise and certain and not susceptible of more than one meaning?

At page 2, sec. 1(1), while defining CIVIL DISORDER, LB 772 makes neither incitement nor participation a crime. Further, by specifying "acts of violence" at line 4, LB 772 creates an anomaly: a single act of violence, regardless of the magnitude of disruption, damage or injury caused, would be insufficient to constitute a "public disturbance" essential to the definition of civil disorder. A single explosion which destroyed police headquarters without injuring anyone or damaging other property would not meet the definition of civil disorder. Consequently, any instruction or training "intended" or "known to be intended" for such purpose would not be covered by the express terms of LB 772.

On the other hand, a civil disorder would be created under the terms of LB 772 if a man roughly elbowed and loudly cursed several people on a public street.

QUERY. Isn't it true that none of the acts in sec. 1(1) need be unlawful or intentional, or that any damage to property or injury to person actually occur? But if any damage or injury should occur, isn't it true that any degree, regardless how slight would be sufficient to create a civil disorder if more than one act of violence were involved?

The definition of civil disorder may embrace various law enforcement activities such as forcible public arrests, high speed auto chases and shooting suspects. If lawfully done, LB 772 does not apply.

QUERY. If some officers unlawfully use excessive force in carrying out the above activities, may not their instructors and trainers be deemed to have "known" or to have "had reason to know" that some officers would unlawfully use the instruction and training -- and such instructors and trainers would be subject to a Class IV felony charge under the express terms of LB 772?

If there were noisy and raucus neighborhood football games, boxing, judo and karate contests which violated "disturbing the peace" laws or ordinances and were, therefore, unlawful, may not the terms of LB 772 be applied to place any teachers and trainers of the participants in line to be charged with a felony if they knew or had reason to know that such disturbances of the peace would occur?

QUERY. May not LB 772 be applied to relatively minor disturbances and thereby embrace far more than the activities of so-called "hate groups"?

At page 2, lines 17-19, FIREARM is defined as "any weapon which...may readily be converted to expel any projectile by the action of an explosive charge...." My emphasis.

Weapon is not defined. Does use determine whether an object is a weapon, and if so, isn't metal tubing which can be a weapon and "may be readily converted" -- whether actually converted or not -- a firearm?

On page 3, that which is criminalized is spelled out, albeit confusedly, inconsistently and contradictorily. In addition to activities related to firearms, explosives and incendiary devices, LB 772 includes a catch-all term, TECHNIQUE in lines 4, 12, 15. It is a felony:

"For any person to teach or demonstrate...to any other person...any technique capable of causing injury or death...when such person knows or has reason to know or intends that such information...will be unlawfully employed for use in or in furtherance of a civil disorder." My emphasis.

("For use in" and "in furtherance of" seem to be vague terms.) Technique, being a broad, undefined, vague term is susceptible of numerous meanings and applicable to numerous activities.

LB 772 distinguishes between "teach" and "demonstrate", hence it is clear that "to teach" deals directly with speech or uttered words. To teach is not itself made unlawful nor is the content of such teaching. The speech becomes felonious if the teacher fits into at least one of three categories based on actual knowledge ("knows"), constructive knowledge ("has reason to know") or intent ("intends") that the information may unlawfully be used in connection with a civil disorder.

QUERY. Regarding actual knowledge, may criminal guilt be constitutionally established based on what a person is deemed to "know" that another person will do with information which in itself is not unlawful to impart? May a person be made criminally liable solely on the basis of what a law enforcement officer divines such person to "know" about what another person will do with information -- especially when such other person may actually do nothing?

It appears that the true aim is to punish mere speech even though no harm results from it, in order to silence certain unpopular groups.

Regarding constructive knowledge, what circumstances create "reason to know"? As mentioned earlier, the definition of incendiary device fits a cigarette lighter. If a parent shows his child how to use a lighter and the child unlawfully uses it to set fire to several houses, doesn't LB 772 by its terms make the parent guilty of a felony because he had reason to know that the child would unlawfully use the lighter to start fires?

It is clear that LB 772 is vague, tenuous and speculative. An unacceptable chilling effect on free speech results because a person is required to guess, at his or her peril, what someone else will do. Unless the person is an accomplished fortuneteller/mind-reader, silence might be the best ticket.

Regarding intent, the teacher's intent has no bearing on what others will do with information. Mere intent is insufficient to create criminal conduct. For example, if a person administered plain tap water to a person thinking it was poison and intending to administer poison, no crime would be committed despite intent.

The courts have set out some forms of speech which under given circumstances may not be protected by the First Amendment. However, LB 772 goes beyond what is constitutionally permissible because the type of speech being criminalized does not fit into any of the restricted categories; it:

- 1) does not advocate an insurrectionary act;
- 2) does not immediately endanger hearers (Fire! shouted in crowded theater);
- 3) does not incite to noisy disruption;
- 4) does not provoke violent reaction from hearers (fighting words);
- 5) is not offensive to unconsenting hearers;
- 6) is not obscene.

QUERY. Since the uttered words are themselves protected speech, does mere intent in uttering them, without anything more remove them from the realm of protected speech?

LB 772 does nothing less than make speech, harmless in itself, a crime because there is no requirement:

- 1) that there be incitement to any unlawful act;
- 2) that hearers do anything based on the words uttered;
- 3) of any likelihood that hearers will do anything;
- 4) that hearers even be capable of applying information;
- 5) that the information be reasonable (e.g., how to cause earthquakes and volcanic eruptions with giant tuning forks);
- 6) that the speaker be taken seriously (hearers may be scoffers, mockers, reporters);
- 7) that information be accurate or correct (e.g., erroneous information about constructing H-bomb);
- 8) that any act occur or even be likely to occur.

It would seem that a legislative scheme to criminalize speech must be unconstitutional when no nexus is required to be found between any unlawful act and the speech.

QUERY. Isn't it true that if LB 772 were enacted into law that the mere utterance of words could lead to a harsher penalty than actual participation in a civil disorder?

At page 3, lines 9-16 is the restricting, criminalizing language related to assembly and association. In addition to being bad law, it is atrocious syntax. It is a Class IV felony:

For any person to assemble with one or more persons for the purpose of training with, practicing with, or being instructed in the use of any firearm, explosive or incendiary device, or technique capable of causing injury or death to persons when such persons intend to unlawfully employ such training, practice, instruction, or techniques for use in or in furtherance of a civil disorder.

By the time one moves from line 9 to line 14, the point of reference has shifted from "person" to "persons" for the purpose of establishing culpability and, thereby, creates ambiguity. No distinction is made between those assembled who may have the requisite intent and those who may not.

QUERY. If all do not have the requisite intent, is there no crime? If only some have the requisite intent, are all guilty by virtue of being assembled "with one or more persons" having the requisite intent?

QUERY. Isn't it true under the terms of LB 772, that an otherwise lawful assembly can be rendered unlawful if any of those present have the requisite evil intent; and a person without knowledge or intent may be guilty of a felony by merely "assembling with one or more persons" having the requisite intent?

QUERY. Isn't LB 772 an unconstitutional application of guilt by association?

Page 4, lines 8-21 purports to "exempt" specific groups. However, the presence of one or more persons with the requisite evil intent renders such exemptions nugatory. Even without this unintended quirk, doesn't language in the exemption provision itself fashion an "escape hatch" for all who desire to evade entirely the provisions of LB 772?

This act shall not prohibit...(5) any programs intended for teaching the safe handling and use of firearms...or other weapons or techniques in connection with sports or other lawful activities....

QUERY. Under the above "escape" provision, may groups or individuals dress as they please and conduct whatever instruction and training they please by claiming to operate a program "intended for teaching the safe handling and use of firearms"?

QUERY. Isn't it true that when determining the constitutionality of a legislative enactment, constitutionality must be judged by what is allowed or permissible under the terms contained in the enactment rather than by the expressed intent of the sponsors and supporters?

I realize that this is a somewhat lengthy request, but I would appreciate an Opinion as soon as possible because LB 772 is moving through the legislative process, being currently on Select File (second stage of debate).

Sincerely,
(Signed) Ernie Chambers

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86019

February 14, 1986

To: Senator Emil E. Beyer, Jr.

Subject: Constitutionality of Amendment to LB 783 -- More Than One Subject Contained in the Bill

This is in response to your request of January 16, 1986. Your concern pertains to the constitutionality of an amendment you wish to propose to LB 783, and whether or not this amendment could result in the bill being held unconstitutional because it would then contain more than one subject. The Nebraska Constitution Article 3, §14, of course, provides in part that "No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title."

LB 783 pertains generally to the treatment and handling of offenses concerning overweight vehicles. Section 4 of LB 783 in particular redefines a violation of Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-6,184 (Supp. 1985), as a misdemeanor. Other provisions of this bill also pertain to the treatment and handling of the offenses arising under §39-6,184, including an exception for jury trials and exception from the general classification of criminal laws for sentencing purposes.

Your amendment to LB 783 would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §24-517(5) (1979) to clarify the jurisdiction of the county court with regard to offenses committed under §39-6,184. Neb.Rev.Stat. §24-517(5) presently gives the county court concurrent jurisdiction over all criminal matters "when the penalty does not exceed one year imprisonment or a fine over one thousand dollars, or both." This, in essence, gave it jurisdiction over all misdemeanors and infractions prior to the enactment of Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-6,184 (Supp. 1985) which established a penalty greater than one thousand dollars for certain violations of that section. The proposed amendment would simply reword the statute to correct this apparent oversight and give the county court concurrent jurisdiction over "any criminal matter classified as a misdemeanor, including §39-6,184, or for any infraction. Furthermore, your amendment would make an exception to Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-107 (Reissue 1979), for sentencing of violations of §39-6,184.

Inasmuch as the original bill and your proposed amendment both pertain to the treatment and disposition of offenses arising under §39-6,184, we see no apparent problem with regard to the inclusion of more than one subject in this particular bill.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

RESOLUTION

Introduced by Pappas, 42nd District.

WHEREAS, the Federal Administration's proposed fiscal budget proposed the elimination of the federal agency known as Small Business Administration; and

WHEREAS, Nebraskans rely heavily on both the financial and management services supplied by S.B.A. to fledgling small businesses in Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska must look to small business development to help overcome the economic problems developing in this state due to the economic revolution occurring in agriculture and agriculture related businesses; and

WHEREAS, there are relatively few private banking and other lending institutions providing loan funds in Nebraska who were willing or without the availability of the S.B.A. guarantee; and

WHEREAS, this legislature has established and funded agencies to assist small business development, but cannot afford to replace the S.B.A. program which is so vital to the total package development assistance needed to generate economic business development in this state; and

WHEREAS, the services provided by S.B.A. of guaranteeing loans from private lending institutions and of providing business management training, market development training, and providing knowledgeable access to government contracts and product development, are the core services that need be continued by S.B.A. in Nebraska;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. Recognizing that budget constraints dictate a streamlining and reduction in agency costs, nevertheless, that this legislature inform the President and Congress of the United States of America by this resolution of the demanding need in Nebraska to continue the Small Business Administration as a lean and effective agency providing loan guarantee services, management training, market development training, assistance in securing government contracts, and new product development assistance.

2. The need in Nebraska for said S.B.A. programs is great and are best provided by an experienced agency with offices in Nebraska ready to function, rather than becoming lost in the maize of Department of Commerce general functions.

3. That the Clerk of the Legislature send a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Nebraska Congressional Delegation, and the Chairman of the House and Senate Committees reviewing the federal budget.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86020
February 19, 1986

TO: Senator John W. DeCamp

SUBJECT: Retirement System for Nebraska Legislators

You have requested us to reconsider the question of whether it would be constitutionally permissible for the Legislature to establish a state-funded pension plan for state senators. In addition, you have asked us to reexamine the issue of whether there are constitutional difficulties presented by the participation of members of the Legislature in the State Employees Retirement System. Your request for reconsideration of these issues refers to a previous opinion from our office on this subject, in which we concluded that the provision of retirement benefits to state senators under either circumstance would constitute "pay" or "perquisite" other than the salary limited by the Constitution, and therefore would violate the provisions of Article III, section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution. Report of Attorney General 1971-72, Opinion No. 85, p. 199.

Article III, section 7, provides, in pertinent part:

Each member of the Legislature shall receive a salary of not to exceed four hundred dollars per month during the term of his office. In addition to his salary, each member shall receive an amount equal to his actual expenses in traveling by the most usual route once to and returning from each regular or special session of the Legislature. Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary and expenses, and employees of the Legislature shall receive no compensation other than their salary or per diem. (Emphasis added).

Neb.Rev.Stat. §50-123.01 (Reissue 1984) fixes the actual salary of the members of the Legislature at the maximum authorized by the Constitution.

Recently, in State ex rel. Douglas v. Beermann, 216 Neb. 849, 347 N.W.2d 297 (1984), the Nebraska Supreme Court held that the limitation contained in Article III, section 7, providing "Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary and expenses," did not prohibit reimbursement to legislators for their actual expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties. While the decision in Beermann focused on the issue of the allowance of expenses incurred by members of the Legislature, the Court also discussed the meaning of the language providing "Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary. . . ." In this regard, the Court stated:

. . . {T}he first 14 words of the third sentence of the constitutional provision in question, "Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary," given their most natural and obvious meaning, say that Nebraska's legislators shall receive no wages, remuneration, compensation, fees, profit, or gain incidental to their office other than the salary mandated in the first sentence of the section. (Emphasis added).

Id. at 855-56, 347 N.W.2d at 302.

On numerous occasions, the Nebraska Supreme Court has held that public employee retirement benefits or pensions constitute deferred compensation for services rendered. Halpin v. State Patrolmen's Retirement System, 211 Neb. 892, 320 N.W.2d 910 (1982); Gossman v. State Employees Retirement System, 177 Neb. 326, 129 N.W.2d 97 (1964); Wilson v. Marsh, 162 Neb. 237, 75 N.W.2d 723 (1956). As the Court stated in Wilson, supra, "The benefit of a retirement system is a form of compensation additional to the regular salary of a member of the system with payment deferred to a later time." 162 Neb. at 251, 75 N.W.2d at 732.

Based on the characterization by our Supreme Court of public retirement or pension benefits as a form of deferred compensation, and the broad language contained in Beermann, supra, interpreting the pertinent portion of Article III, section 7 to prohibit legislators from receiving any "wages, remuneration, compensation, fees, profit, or gain incidental to their office" other than the maximum salary provided for by the Constitution, we must conclude that the providing of retirement or pension benefits to state senators would very likely be held pay or perquisite in addition to their salary, prohibited by this provision of our Constitution.

We recognize that courts from other jurisdictions have upheld the validity of the provision of pension benefits to state legislators against various constitutional challenges. Upon reviewing these cases, however, it is apparent that the language of the constitutional provisions construed in these decisions is, in each instance, distinguishable from the relevant language in Article III, section 7, of the Nebraska Constitution. For example, in Knight v. Board of Administration, 32 Cal.2d 400, 196 P.2d 547 (1948), the court examined several constitutional provisions in rejecting an attack on the validity of legislation establishing a retirement system for members of the California State Legislature. Article IV, sec. 23 of the California Constitution provided, in part: "The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services the sum of one hundred dollars each for each month of the term for which they are elected. . . ." In addition, Article IV, sec. 23b provided, in part: "Members of the Legislature shall receive no compensation for their services other than that fixed by the Constitution but each member shall be allowed and reimbursed expenses necessarily incurred. . . ." Id. at ___, 196 P.2d at 547-48.

In upholding the constitutionality of the legislative retirement system, the court in Knight determined these two constitutional provisions limiting legislative compensation were modified by a third constitutional provision, Article IV, sec. 22a, which provided, in part: "The Legislature shall have power to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to employees of the State. . . ." Id. at ___, 196 P.2d at 548. The court held the word "employees," as used in this constitutional provision authorizing the Legislature to provide retirement benefits for employees of the state, was broad enough to include state legislators. Id. at ___, 196 P.2d at 550.

The decision in Knight, relying on the specific provision in the California Constitution authorizing the establishment of retirement systems for state employees as authority for upholding a legislative retirement plan, is inapplicable to the issue of the proper interpretation of Article III, section 7, of the Nebraska Constitution, as our Constitution contains no similar specific provision for retirement plans of this nature.

Chamber of Commerce v. Leone, 141 N.J. Super. 114, 357 A.2d 311 (1976), also involved a challenge to the constitutionality of legislation creating a legislative pension plan. In Leone, however, the constitutional attack was based on the argument that the benefits would not be received during the legislator's term of office. The plaintiffs contended this violated Article IV, section IV, par. 7 of the New Jersey Constitution, which provided, in part: "Members of the Senate and General Assembly shall receive annually, during the term for which they shall have been elected and while they shall hold their office, such compensation as shall, from time to time, be fixed by law. . . ." Id. at 120, 357 A.2d at 314 (Emphasis added). The court held that, as the "right" to receive benefits is earned while the legislator is in office, the plan did not violate the constitutional requirement that compensation be received during the legislator's term of office. Id. at 137, 357 A.2d at 324.

Similarly, in Boryszewski v. Brydges, 37 N.Y.2d 361, 372 N.Y.S.2d 623, 334 N.E.2d 579 (1975), the court construed the following New York constitutional provisions in an action raising the constitutionality of a legislative and executive retirement plan:

Each of the state officers named in this constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service a like annual salary, to be fixed by law. * * * Neither the salary of any member nor any other allowance so fixed may be increased or diminished during, and with respect to, the term for which he shall have been elected, nor shall he be paid or receive any other extra compensation. (Emphasis added).

The petitioners in Boryszewski contended these constitutional provisions precluded future payments to legislators for past services in the form of pension benefits, and thus compensation could only be paid to legislators during their "continuance in office." The court rejected this assertion, concluding that a pension was a proper form of compensation and that, although payment itself would be received subsequent to the legislator's term of office, the right to receive payment was received during the "continuance in office." In reaching this conclusion, the court stated: "Retirement benefits are a component of present compensation." Id. at 367-68, 372 N.Y.S.2d at 629, 334 N.E.2d at 583.

The constitutional provisions construed in Leone, supra, and Boryszewski, supra, both provided that legislators would receive compensation at the level "fixed by law." Thus, under both the New Jersey and New York Constitutions, the Legislature of each state possessed the authority to set their own level of compensation. In contrast, Article III, section 7, of the Nebraska Constitution, establishes a specific maximum dollar amount with each member of the Legislature may receive in salary, and further prohibits the receipt by state senators of any pay or perquisites in addition to the salary authorized under this section.

The one decision from another jurisdiction which provides some authority for upholding the constitutionality of establishing retirement or pension benefits for members of the Legislature is Campbell v. Kelly, 202 S.E.2d 369 (W.Va. 1974). The constitutional provision at issue in Campbell, which was adopted in 1872, provided:

Each member of the legislature shall receive for this services the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars a year, and expenses for one round trip in connection with any session. . . . No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the member of either house for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever. (Emphasis added).

Id. at 373.

Rejecting the contention that the establishment of a legislative pension system constituted an "allowance" or "emolument" prohibited under this constitutional provision, the Supreme Court of West Virginia stated:

This Court is persuaded that in the absence of evidence that it was the intent of the framers of our Constitution by Section 33 to prohibit pension plans under conditions as they have changed in the last century, our Constitution should be interpreted in conformity with the great weight of precedent from other jurisdictions interpreting similar provisions of other state constitutions. All the modern decisions interpreting the power of legislators to enact pension programs hold that constitutional limitations on "allowances" or "emoluments" do not apply to pension programs.

{P}ensions are not traditional "salary," and by extension not either an "allowance" or "emolument," but rather are things sui generis which were not contemplated within the constitutional structure established in 1872.

Id. at 375-76.

An analysis of the rationale behind the decision in Campbell reveals two potentially critical distinctions between the West Virginia constitutional provision construed in that case, and Article III, section 7, of our State Constitution. First, the court in Campbell emphasized that, at the time the constitutional provision in question was adopted in 1872, no state pension plans or retirement systems were in existence, and thus could not have been within the contemplation of the framers who established the constitutional prohibition. In contrast, the portion of Article III, section 7, providing "Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary and expenses," was adopted following a vote of the people amending this provision in 1934. Thus, while the concept of a state pension plan or system may have been unknown in 1872 when the West Virginia constitutional provision was adopted, it is far less likely that the existence of such benefit systems was beyond the comprehension of the drafters of the present language in Article III, section 7, when voted on by the people of Nebraska in 1934.

Furthermore, the language employed in Article III, section 7, providing members of the Legislature shall receive no "pay nor perquisites" other than the salaries specifically stated in that section, appears to be broader in scope than the different language in the West Virginia constitutional provision barring any "allowance or emolument." This would seem to be particularly true in light of the specific statement by our Supreme Court in Beermann, supra, that the "pay" or "perquisites" language in Article III, section 7, means Nebraska's legislators shall receive "no wages, remuneration, compensation, fees, profit or gain incidental to their office other than the salary mandated in the first sentence of the section." 216 Neb. at 849, 347 N.W.2d at 302.

In conclusion, based on the characterization by our Supreme Court of public retirement or pension benefits as a form of deferred compensation, and the broad language contained in Beermann, supra, construing Article III, section 7, to prohibit legislators from receiving any "wages, remuneration, compensation, fees, profit, or gain incidental to their office" other than the maximum salary provided for by the Constitution, we believe that either the establishment of a state-funded pension plan for legislators, or the inclusion of state senators within the State Employees Retirement System, poses serious constitutional difficulties, and that either proposal would likely be held to violate the proscription contained in Article III, section 7. While an argument could be advanced to support the constitutionality of legislation of this nature, we cannot affirmatively conclude that any such proposal, if enacted, would withstand constitutional challenge.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86023

February 26, 1986

To: Senator Vard R. Johnson

Subject: LB 1114 - Amendment to Insurance Premiums Tax

You have requested our opinion on certain questions regarding the constitutionality of LB 1114, as amended, a bill proposing to revise Nebraska's gross premiums tax. Under current Nebraska law, foreign insurance companies pay a tax on their gross premiums from business conducted in the state at a rate of two percent. Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-908 (Supp. 1984). Domestic insurance companies, in contrast, are taxed at a rate of six-tenths of one percent of their gross premiums. Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-909 (Supp. 1984). LB 1114, as amended, would change these statutory provisions by establishing a tax rate of two percent of gross premiums for all insurance companies licensed to do business in the state. In addition, Section 11 of the bill would provide companies with a tax credit equal to the percentage of their noncommission compensation paid in Nebraska. The proposed credit calculation would be based on the ratio of a company's total noncommission compensation paid in Nebraska to its total noncommission compensation paid everywhere, with the resulting percentage being applied to reduce the two percent tax. The credit would be subject to a minimum tax of six-tenths of one percent of the amount of a company's gross premiums.

Your initial question concerns whether the compensation credit provided under Section 11 would, in application, violate the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution by discriminating against foreign insurance companies doing business in Nebraska.

The issue of the constitutionality under the Equal Protection Clause of a state tax statute providing a preference to domestic insurance companies over foreign insurance companies doing business in a state was recently addressed by the United States Supreme Court in Metropolitan Life Insurance Company v. Ward, 470 U.S. ___, 84 L.Ed.2d 751, 105 S.Ct. 1676, rehearing denied ___, U.S. ___, 86 L.Ed.2d 269, 105 S.Ct. 2370 (1985) (Ward). In Ward, Metropolitan

Life and a group of other non-Alabama insurance companies challenged the constitutionality of Alabama's premiums tax. Under the Alabama statute, the gross premiums of domestic companies are taxed at a rate of one percent, while foreign companies are taxed at the rate of three percent for life insurance premiums and four percent for all other insurance premiums. The Alabama taxing statute permits foreign companies to reduce their tax by providing a credit for investments in certain Alabama assets and securities, but foreign companies can never reduce their gross premiums tax rate to the same level paid by domestic companies. Id. at ___, 86 L.Ed.2d at 755, 105 S.Ct. at 1678-79.

In a five-four decision, the majority opinion reiterated the Equal Protection Clause test previously articulated by the Court in Western and Southern Life Insurance Company v. State Board of Equalization of California, 451 U.S. 648, 667-68 (1981), regarding a state's authority to grant domestic corporations a tax preference by discriminating between foreign and domestic corporations:

{W}e consider it now established that, whatever the extent of a State's authority to exclude foreign corporations from doing business within its boundaries, that authority does not justify imposition of more onerous taxes or other burdens on foreign corporations than those imposed on domestic corporations, unless the discrimination between foreign and domestic corporations bears a rational relation to a legitimate state purpose. 470 U.S. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 757, 105 S.Ct. at 1680.

The Court considered two purposes advanced by the State of Alabama to justify the disparate tax treatment of foreign insurance companies under the state's domestic preference statute: (1) encouraging the formation of new insurance companies in Alabama; and (2) encouraging capital investment by foreign insurance companies in Alabama assets and government securities. Id. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 756, 105 S.Ct. at 1679.

The majority rejected the first purpose, holding that the goal of promoting domestic business within the state by discriminating against foreign corporations was not a legitimate state purpose. Id. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 762, 105 S.Ct. at 1684. Similarly, the Court held the encouragement of capital investment in Alabama assets and government securities was not a legitimate state purpose when furthered by discrimination. Id. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 762, 105 S.Ct. at 1684. The case was remanded for further proceedings to determine whether any of some 15 additional purposes advanced by the state in support of the Alabama statute are legitimate and whether the discrimination between foreign and domestic companies bears a rational relation to a legitimate state purpose. Id. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 758 n. 5, 762, 105 S.Ct. at 1680 n. 5, 1684.

In a dissenting opinion, Justice O'Connor, joined by Justices Brennan, Marshall, and Rehnquist, criticized the majority for "a holding that can only be characterized as astonishing." Id. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 763, 105 S.Ct. at 1684. (O'Connor, J., dissenting). After reviewing a number of previous decisions by the Court affording states broad legislative discretion in determining when discrimination between foreign and domestic corporations is appropriate, and discussing the authority granted to the individual states in the regulation and taxation of the business of insurance within their borders under the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. §1011 et seq., the dissent concluded that "{b}ecause Alabama's classification bears a rational relationship to a legitimate purpose, our precedents demand that it be sustained." 470 U.S. at ___, 84 L.Ed.2d at 772, 105 S.Ct. at 1692. (O'Connor, J., dissenting).

Because the Supreme Court did not invalidate Alabama's domestic preference tax statute, there remains some doubt as to the ultimate impact and effect of the decision in Ward. As was noted, the Court, while rejecting two purposes advanced in support of the validity of the Alabama statute, remanded the case for further proceedings to enable the Alabama courts to consider the legitimacy of the numerous other purposes asserted by the state to establish the statutes validity.

Following the issuance of the Supreme Court's decision in Ward, the Supreme Court of North Dakota, in Metropolitan Life Insurance Company v. Commissioner of the Department of Insurance, 373 N.W.2d 399 (N.D. 1985), held invalid North Dakota's domestic preference tax. Under the North Dakota statute, foreign insurance companies were subject to an annual assessment of two and one-half percent on the gross amount of premiums. Domestic insurance companies, in contrast, were subject only to the corporate income tax, privilege tax, and Vietnam bonus surtaxes imposed upon domestic corporations. Id. at 403-04. The evidence in the record established that the North Dakota statutory scheme for taxing insurance companies resulted in the imposition of substantially greater taxes on foreign insurance companies than on domestic insurance companies. Id. at 406. Rejecting 23 purposes advanced by the state in support of the legitimacy of the discriminatory scheme of taxation, the court stated:

The vast majority of the purposes presented by the State, and upon which the State relied most heavily in the district court, relate to promotion of the domestic insurance industry within the state and encouragement of capital investment in the state. Both of these purposes were determined by the Supreme Court in Ward not to be legitimate under the Equal Protection Clause when furthered by discrimination.

Id. at 407.

Nebraska's current gross premiums tax, which assesses taxes on foreign insurers at a higher rate than is applied to domestic insurers, is substantially similar to the Alabama taxing scheme at issue in Ward. Based on the rationale employed by the majority in Ward, as well as the decision in Metropolitan Life Insurance Company v. Commissioner of the Department of Insurance, supra, it appears the constitutionality of the present Nebraska gross premiums tax is subject to doubt.

LB 1114, as amended, would eliminate the disparate treatment which presently exists in the tax rates applied to foreign and domestic insurers under §§77-908 and 77-909 by imposing a tax at the rate of two percent of gross premiums for all insurance companies licensed to do business in the state. In addition to this uniform tax rate, the bill would provide a tax credit to all companies based on the percentage of their noncommission compensation paid in Nebraska, subject to a minimum tax rate of six-tenths of one percent of a company's gross premiums. Thus, LB 1114, as amended, does not expressly discriminate against foreign insurance companies with regard to the tax imposed. The taxing scheme created is facially neutral, imposing a rate of two percent on all insurers, and providing all insurance companies the opportunity to seek the benefits of the compensation credit.

The fact that the tax system created by LB 1114 is facially neutral, however, does not render the scheme of taxation proposed under the bill immune from scrutiny under the Equal Protection Clause. It is well established that a statute which is nondiscriminatory or fair on its face may constitute a denial of equal protection if it is unreasonably, unfairly, or arbitrarily discriminatory in either its operation or effect. E.g., Williams v. Illinois, 399 U.S. 235, 242 (1970). In judging the constitutionality of a tax system, its validity and purpose is determined by examining the actual operation and effect of the taxing scheme in question. See, e.g., Wisconsin v. J.C. Penney Company, 311 U.S. 435, 443-44 (1940); Lawrence v. State Tax Commission, 286 U.S. 276, 280 (1932); Hanover Fire Insurance Company v. Harding, 272 U.S. 494, 509-10 (1926); cf. Michigan National Bank v. Michigan, 365 U.S. 467, 475 (1961) (in determining discriminatory character of state tax on shares of stock in national bank, the determinative factor is its effect, not its rate). The threshold issue, therefore, is whether LB 1114, while it imposes a tax neutral on its face, would, in effect, actually operate to discriminate against foreign insurance companies in a manner prohibited under the Equal Protection Clause.

Initially, we point out that the determination of whether LB 1114 would operate to discriminate against foreign insurance companies with respect to their tax burden would rest, in large part, on certain facts indicative of the real purpose behind the system of taxation created, as judged by its effect. In particular, the primary factual questions raised in this regard would focus on whether the compensation credit would operate to the benefit solely or primarily of domestic insurers, and, correspondingly, whether the credit would operate in such a manner as to effectively provide no tax benefits to foreign insurers.

While we do not possess sufficient information to specifically address these factual issues, we will nevertheless endeavor to make certain general observations which we believe a court might consider relevant in determining the purpose behind the compensation credit provision, and whether the compensation credit in LB 1114 would, in application, discriminate against foreign insurers in violation of the Equal Protection Clause.

An examination of the tax rate and credit provisions of LB 1114 reveals the minimum tax rate under LB 1114 is the same as the domestic tax rate under current law, and the maximum rate of two percent as identical to the current tax rate applied to foreign insurers. It is conceivable that domestic insurance companies are far more likely to maintain substantial percentages of their work forces in Nebraska, thus enabling domestic companies to enjoy the full benefit of the compensation credit. In contrast, it is conceivable that foreign insurers, whose payrolls may be concentrated in their home states or spread throughout the country, may likely be denied the benefit of any meaningful tax credit. We stress, however, that we are not in possession of the factual information necessary to allow us to definitively conclude that these observations are correct regarding the projected operation and effect of LB 1114.

In summary, with regard to the potentially discriminatory effect of LB 1114, we believe it is conceivable that the amendment proposed would, although facially neutral, operate to continue the present disparate tax treatment between foreign and domestic insurance companies.

Assuming, arguendo, that the requisite discriminatory purpose and effect is found to exist under the operation of the compensation credit in LB 1114, such discrimination may nevertheless not violate the Equal Protection Clause if it is in furtherance of a legitimate state purpose. Ward, supra; Western and Southern, supra. The purpose sought to be advanced through the compensation credit, as stated in Section 11 of LB 1114, is "to stimulate job opportunities by the development and expansion of the business of insurance from within this state by branch, regional, and home offices."

In analyzing the legitimacy of this purpose, we note that the Supreme Court, in considering other constitutional provisions, has cast doubt on the argument that promoting local employment is a legitimate purpose when achieved through discrimination. See Hicklin v. Orbeck, 437 U.S. 518, 526 (1978) (Privileges and Immunities Clause); cf. Edwards v. California, 314 U.S. 160, 173-74 (1941) (Commerce Clause). Furthermore, the bill provides the stimulation of job opportunities is a means to achieve "the development and expansion of the business of insurance from within this state." The Supreme Court's decision in Ward, supra, clearly demonstrates the promotion of domestic business is not a legitimate state purpose when achieved through the imposition of a discriminatory premiums tax. See also Metropolitan Life Insurance Company v. Commissioner of the Department of Insurance, supra, 373 N.W.2d at 407. Therefore, we believe certain questions exist with respect to the legitimacy of the purpose stated in the bill.

Finally, assuming the compensation credit were determined to serve a legitimate state purpose, the means chosen must still be rationally related to the achievement of that purpose. Ward, supra; Western and Southern, supra. In this regard, we note that the bill, as amended, provides no incentive for companies that presently have more than 70 percent of their payroll in Nebraska to increase their in-state employment, as any further increase would not result in additional tax savings. Presumably, domestic insurers alone will maintain a large percentage of their work force in Nebraska, and the bill therefore does not appear to be rationally related to the goal of motivating such companies to increase their in-state payroll.

By comparison, a large foreign insurance company with a substantial Nebraska payroll may nevertheless receive little or no benefit from the credit, if the insurer's nationwide payroll were so large as to make its ratio of Nebraska compensation to total compensation minimal. Even if such a large foreign insurer were to substantially increase its Nebraska payroll, it may not result in any significant tax savings. The incentive for such insurers to expand their work force in the state would be minimal under these circumstances. These concerns, as well as others, lead us to question whether the calculation of the compensation credit possesses the requisite rational relationship to the goal of increasing job opportunities in Nebraska, in view of the potentially discriminatory operation and effect of its application.

We recognize that, in a case decided subsequent to Ward, the Supreme Court unanimously upheld the validity of a reciprocal regional interstate banking scheme among six New England states which discriminated against bank holding companies domiciled outside of those states. Northeast Bancorp, Inc. v. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 472 U.S. ___, 86 L.Ed.2d 112, 105 S.Ct. 2545 (1985). In a concurring opinion, Justice O'Connor stated she saw "no meaningful distinction" between the interstate banking statutes upheld in Northeast Bancorp and the Alabama premiums tax at issue in Ward. Id. at ___, 86 L.Ed.2d at 128, 105 S.Ct. at 2556 (O'Connor, J., concurring).

In spite of the decision in Northeast Bancorp, we cannot ignore the import and effect of the majority opinion in Ward. While it seems to us that the Court in Ward has made a departure from the broad discretion and latitude previously afforded states in enacting discriminatory legislation of this nature, we are not free to disregard the potentially broad implications raised by this decision. Accordingly, based on the foregoing, it is our opinion that serious questions exist as to the constitutionality of LB 1114 under the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution.

Your second question concerns whether the compensation credit provided in LB 1114 would discriminate against nonresidents of the state in violation of the Privileges and Immunities Clause of Article IV, Section 2 of the United States Constitution.

The purpose of the Privileges and Immunities Clause is to place the citizens of each State upon the same footing with citizens of other States, so far as the advantages resulting from citizenship in those States are concerned. It relieves them from the disabilities of alienage in other States; it inhibits discriminating legislation against them by other states;

Paul v. Virginia, 8 Wall. 168, 180 (1869). See also Ward v. Maryland, 12 Wall. 418 (1871); Hicklin v. Orbeck, 437 U.S. 518 (1978).

The credit allowed by LB 1114 is based upon the ratio of the "total amount of compensation paid in this state" to the "total amount of compensation paid everywhere." LB 1114, Section 11. Section 9 of the bill defines "compensation" as "wages, salaries, and any other form of remuneration, except commissions, paid to employees for personal services." Subsections (1)(a) through (c) of Section 9 define the circumstances under which compensation is deemed to be paid in this state. The language employed in Section 9 mirrors the language providing for the payroll factor computation under the unitary business tax contained in Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2734.13 (Supp. 1984).

In our view, the bill does not create any prohibited discrimination against nonresidents in violation of the Privileges and Immunities Clause. The factor which determines whether compensation is paid within the state is whether the service is performed in the state. No suggestion or inference is made that the salaries and wages of nonresident employees will not be included in computing the credit. As the credit is not based on the state of residence of the employees, it appears the bill does not violate the Privileges and Immunities Clause.

Finally, you have requested our advice concerning the propriety of the bill's provision of an emergency clause and a retroactive operative date to January 1, 1985. You ask whether retroactive application of the premiums tax formula in LB 1114 would be constitutional.

In Opinion No. 152, dated November 14, 1985, we noted the general rule of law establishing that a tax is not necessarily rendered unconstitutional merely because it has some retroactive effect. The primary constitutional objection to legislation of this nature is that it constitutes a denial of due process. In our previous opinion, we cited the leading case concerning this issue, Welch v. Henry, 305 U.S. 134, 147 (1938), in which the Court stated that, in each case, it is necessary "to consider the nature of the tax and the circumstances in which it is laid before it can be said that its retroactive application is so harsh and oppressive as to transgress the constitutional limitation." Based on the principles enunciated in Welch, supra, we do not believe it would be impermissible for the Legislature to provide for the retroactive application of a change in the premiums tax under the present circumstances.

Very truly yours,
